

United War Fund Drive Opened

United War Fund Season opened this week in Newton and the forty-eight other cities and towns of the Greater Boston area. All Greater Boston is concentrating on this gigantic task of raising $7,800,000 for vital all-time and wartime needs, of which Newton's quota is $315,000.

Campaign posters, bearing the 1943 symbol—the traditional red feather encircled by blue stars—are appearing on billboards throughout the 600-square-mile Greater Boston area.

The red feather is the badge of honor signifying the responsibility of the Greater Boston community to the 235 Community Fund hospitals and social agencies serving its 2,000,000 people. The circle of blue stars symbolizes the community's greater responsibility to a nation and a world at war, through the USO, United Nations Relief, War Prisoners' Aid and other wartime services.

The 1943 slogan is "Give enough soon enough!" Sacrifice is the keynote, lest it be "too little too late."

With more than 2200 of its 2400 volunteer workers enrolled by last Monday, Jan. 4, the Newton Campaign organization is 93 per cent (Continued on page 6)

Kiwanians To Install Jan. 12

Arrangements have been completed for installation of the 1943 officers and directors by the Newton Kiwanis Club. Installation ceremonies will take place on Tuesday evening, January 12th at the Newtonville Women's Club. Officers will be installed by Mr. James P. Gallagher, International Trustee of Kiwanis. A program of entertainment is being arranged by Messrs. Archie Belanger, Clarence Hutchings, John W. Cable and Jack Jansse.

All officers and committee chairmen of the local club will attend a New England District Midyear Meeting at the Hotel Touraine in Boston on Saturday, January 9th.

A business meeting of the new directors and committee chairman was held at the conclusion of the regular meeting last Tuesday.

The musical program was in charge of Archie Belanger. Mr. George Van Buskirk who has charge of bond purchases of members of the Newton Club, announced that $106.75 worth of bonds and stamps was purchased at the meeting last Tuesday.

The speaker at the last meeting was Mr. Irving Chukaski, Director of Economic Research for McGill Commodities Service Inc. of Auburndale. He spoke on the subject, "The Economic Outlook for 1943."

Mr. Chukaski said that the coming year would be the first year in which this country really experienced a war economy. He said that there would be a shortage by next fall of all civilian goods, including food, and that this country could not produce enough for the Lend-Lease program and our own requirements too. He predicted a serious manpower shortage with about 12 million men in our armed forces by the end of 1943. He said that it was entirely possible that a compulsory national service act giving full control to the government of manpower would be found necessary.

Mr. Chukaski predicted an increase of seven per cent in the present cost of living during 1943; the end of the New Deal as a political program during the year; and possibly the favorable completion of the war in Europe before January 1, 1944.

Salvation Army Drive Now On

Meritorious Service In Last War As Well As This War, Should Not Go Unrewarded

Six official collectors are now in Newton contacting citizens who have not already handed or mailed their money or check to the campaign treasurer in the annual appeal of The Salvation Army. The goal is set at $6,000 and there is a hope that a new high will be reached.

William M. Cahill, treasurer of the Newton Trust Co., Newton Centre, is also campaign treasurer. He is cooperating with the plan to hand contributions to him—if it is not easier, mail them. The collectors now in Newton, in full uniform, carrying proper credentials and a letter signed by Mr. Douglas B. Francis, are Sergeant-Major Thomas Downie, Ernest Stowe, Bandleader Frederick Moore, Bandsman Leonard H. Cady and Brothers Bernard Stone and Thomas Woodruff.

All those who take part in the Newton annual appeal share the load in carrying on the Newton Local Emergency Fund of the Salvation Army that rendered fine service to families in temporary need of aid, during the Christmas season. This fund is operated by Newton men and women.

Newton donors also have a part in the fine program at the Red Shield Service Men's Club, 2 Bulfinch st., as well as in the supplying of comfortable sleeping accommodations. From this center the mobile canteen moves out twice each day to hand-out four doughnuts and hot coffee to every man on guard, protecting our bridges, wharves, buildings and manning our anti-aircraft posts. In all 100 dozen doughnuts are handed out every day.

To Open Well Baby Conference

The Newton District Nursing Association announces the opening of a Well Baby Conference at the Burr School, Auburndale.

There will be a weekly session on Tuesday afternoons from 2 to 3.

Dr. Margaret Blair will be the pediatrician in attendance.

Change in Time Of Siren Test

The air raid warning siren test will be sounded on Sunday, Jan. 10, 1943, and each morning thereafter at 11:45 a.m. The 9:30 a.m. test will be discontinued. Acting Chief John L. Keating, Newton Fire Department.

Newton Hospitals On Approved List

Despite depleted staffs, curtailed supplies, increased expenses and heavy demands for service, hospitals of the United States and Canada have accepted war conditions as a challenge and are as a whole maintaining high standards, according to Dr. Irvin Abell of Louisville, chairman of the Board of Regents of the American College of Surgeons, in announcing the 35th annual list of hospitals approved by the organization, which includes 2389 institutions, at the annual meeting of the board held in Chicago last month.

Numbered among the list of hospitals approved by the American College of Surgeons in Massachusetts are the New England Children in Newton Centre and the Newton Hospital, Newton Lower Falls. This speaks highly for the efficient work of the governing board, administrator and staff of physicians and nurses at both hospitals and every citizen of the city should take justifiable pride in the honor bestowed the local institutions in maintaining the high standards required to attain this approval.

Three Escape From Night Fire

A fire was discovered in the house at 388 Parker st., Newton Centre shortly after 11 p.m. on New Year's Eve. Mrs. Gaizela S. Robertson, 73, who had been ironing in the kitchen smelled smoke and after arousing her two grandchildren, James Robertson, 10 and Isabel Robertson, 8, escaped with them down a smoke-filled stairway to the street.

Engines 3 and 7 and Ladder 2 responded to a telephone call and it was an hour and one half before the all-out was ordered at 12:45 a.m. The fire which is believed to have started near the heater in the cellar burned through the floor of the first floor apartment.

The house is owned by James Robinson, who with Mrs. Robinson, was away at the time the fire was discovered.

Chief Randlett Granted Retirement Request

Veteran Fire Official, With Excellent Record, Given Resolution of Praise

The application of Chief Clarence W. Randlett, of the Newton Fire Department, that he be allowed to retire on a pension of half pay because of physical disability, was recommended to the Board of Aldermen by Mayor Paul M. Goddard on Monday and was authorized by the Board. On the motion of Alderman George E. Rawson, seconded by Alderman John Temperley, the following resolution was adopted in regard to the retirement of the chief:

"It is with sincere regret that we have learned of the retirement of Clarence W. Randlett, the capable and beloved chief of our Fire Department. Clarence Randlett has spent his life in the Fire Department. He was appointed a call fireman Jan. 1, 1901; a lineman in the Wire Department Aug. 6, 1902; a hoseman on Aug. 6, 1904; lieutenant and aide to the chief on July 1, 1916, captain on Aug. 2, 1918, and on April 22, 1924, he was appointed chief, succeeding his own father.

"Endowed with upright character, boundless courage, kindly personality, a strong sense of justice and marked executive ability, he has been an ideal leader. He never asked a fireman to do anything he would not do himself.

"His personal leadership, which inspired the devoted loyalty of his men, has given us a Fire Department to be envied by other cities and towns. This has been a large factor in our low fire insurance rates, the lowest of any city in this Commonwealth. His record sets a high mark for those who follow him.

"Therefore be it resolved that we, the Newton Board of Aldermen, express to Chief Randlett our grateful appreciation of his splendid services to our city, and our regret that they have come to an end.

"And be it further resolved that we direct the city to spread these resolutions upon our records, that he send a copy thereof to the Fire Department for its records, and that he send a further copy thereof to Chief Randlett, with our warm personal regards."

Assistant Chief John L. Keating has been appointed by Mayor Goddard as acting chief.

Annual Meeting Of Holy Name Societies Held

The annual meeting of the Holy Name Societies of the several Newton parishes and of St. John's Church of Wellesley was held Sunday afternoon in St. Bernard's Church, West Newton.

Rev. Thomas L. Boland, former curate at St. Bernard's, who was recently appointed pastor of the Sacred Heart Church, Natick, spoke on the importance of prayer in winning the war.

Rev. John J. Crane, pastor of St. Bernard's Church, was master of ceremonies, and Rev. John A. Sheridan, pastor of Our Lady's Church, led the priests of the other Newton parishes on the altar. Rev. Russell T. Haley of Our Lady's Church recited the "Rosary." Rev. John B. Condon, pastor of Corpus Christi Church, offered the "Benedictus" assisted by Rev. William J. O'Connell, pastor of Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church, and Rev. Bernard Winn of Sacred Heart Church.

Miss Esther M. Costello, organist, directed the church choir. The service opened with "Mother, Dear, O Pray for Me" sung by the congregation. Preceding the sermon the men sang "Come, Holy Ghost" and the Hymn of the Holy Name followed the "Benedictus."

MUCH INTEREST IN SOUTH

"Today there is more interest in the South than ever before. More new Service camps are located in that section than in any part of the country. Just as we hunt through atlases for queer names and hungrily read newspaper and magazine articles about important new foreign places where our boys may be, so we seek out dimly remembered spots in the romantic South," says Miss Marguerite Davison, Congregational missionary in the Southeast, who will speak Sunday evening, January 10, to the young people of the congregational Church, West Newton.

Alice in Wonderland... The Ceiling Mystery

By Mary K. Allen

Alice stopped short with her mouth wide open, and gazed fixedly upward. "What" she almost shrieked, "is the matter with that ceiling?" Sometimes it's there, and sometimes it isn't. Sometimes I see it, and then it disappears.

"It's mad," said the Mad Hatter, "as mad as I'm supposed to be."

"It isn't mad at all," said the March Hare. "You simply don't understand it. People like to call me mad or foolish when they don't understand them. I'll explain it to you."

"That's the peanut counter. The ceiling on peanuts comes and goes because sometimes they are so plentiful that there isn't any point in having a ceiling—the price would come down and stay down anyway, but then they get scarce again and the ceiling has to be put back on in order to keep the price from going too high."

"If you watch the whole market you will see that occasionally some other thing that, like peanuts, can be grown easily in large quantities has its ceiling removed. But the OPA watches it and, if the price rises too much, the ceiling is clapped on again."

"The ceilings come on and off very often like that, however, and as time goes on, they will go off less and less, because we are going to use everything we have to the last ounce and the last drop, so that, even if we raise the biggest crop ever, we are going to have a hard time making them go around, since they'll have to serve our armed forces, our allies, and the peoples of the occupied lands as fast as they are freed. So, if our prices are to be reasonable and not get all out of balance and help to cause inflation, the ceilings will have to be kept on."

"I wish," murmured Alice, "that you would explain inflation to me."

"The March Hare looked annoyed. 'You never do remember anything you are supposed to have learned,' he said. 'I'll tell you once more.'

"Inflation happens when everything gets very scarce and everybody wants everything very much."

"To put it another way: When the war started, industry needed more workers, so it was willing to pay higher wages in order to get them. Then, having more money than usual, the workers bought more food, clothing, furniture, than usual. That made the prices go up, because those workers became scarcer. Next, the workers said that the cost of living had gone up, so they must have more pay. And then they spent their higher pay and made prices go up again. And so wages and prices chased each other around and around in circles; and everything else, where money was concerned, went up too. That is inflation: every money payment becoming inflated like a balloon."

"If ceilings are put on prices, so that they don't keep on rising, then there is no excuse for wages or anything else rising, so the inflation stops."

"Ah," said Alice humbly, "so price regulation does two things: it keeps high prices from going even higher, so that everybody has the same chance to buy, which is good democracy; and it fixes prices so that other things won't go on rising, which prevents inflation. And general inflation would put everything out of order, make living expensive and difficult for all."

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen Monday night, President Charles B. Floyd read a letter of resignation from Alderman Maxwell P. Gaddis of Ward 3, in which Mr. Gaddis stated that his resignation was offered reluctantly and was caused by circumstances over which he had no control. The resignation was accepted by the Board with regret. A successor to Alderman Gaddis will be elected at the next meeting of the Board on January 18.

Alderman Gaddis was recently appointed chairman of the finance commission following the resignation of the former chairman, Carl F. Schipper, who resigned to enter the service of the Navy. Alderman Robert A. Whidden, a member of the finance committee, was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Alderman Gaddis. Alderman Charles E. Hughes was appointed chairman of soldier's relief in place of Alderman Lockwood and Alderman George A. Bacon was appointed chairman of the street traffic committee to succeed Alderman Gaddis. President Floyd appointed Alderman Fred C. Alexander to the public works committee and Alderman Slocum to the committee on franchises and licenses.

A traffic ordinance prohibiting the parking of automobiles on Walnut st., Newton Highlands between Floral and Centre sts. was adopted, chairman Bacon of the traffic committee explaining that the one hour parking rule which had been in effect had proved hazardous to traffic.

Dr. Roland A. Lombard of 2285 Commonwealth ave., Auburndale, was appointed inspector of animals to succeed Dr. Richard A. Schofield who has joined the armed forces. Dr. Lombard who has practiced in Newton for six years is a graduate of the University of Toronto where he received the degree of D. V. M. in 1936. Other appointments made were:

Sydney B. Holden reappointed assessor for a term of three years from February 1.

The board voted to authorize the city treasurer to borrow an amount not to exceed $5,427,403.91 in anticipation of the 1943 revenue.

David M. Goodman, 10 Chapin rd., Albert C. Perkins, 41 Richardson st., and William Johnston, 322 River st., were drawn for jury service for criminal business at the Superior Court in Cambridge. They are to report on Monday, Feb. 1.

Acting Chief John L. Keating of the Fire Department was appointed forest warden and inspector of petroleum for one year, from January 1.

Street Commissioner John D. Haughey was reappointed superintendent for the suppression of gypsy and brown tail moths for one year from Jan. 1.

Daniel A. White was re-elected comptroller of accounts for a term of three years, and Clarence C. Colby, city treasurer, and collector for one year.

The following appropriations were passed:

Assessing Department, temporary clerks, $2,500.

Department of Municipal Defense, clerical assistance, in advance of budget, $2,347.50. Aldermen Henderson Inches, Donald M. Gibbs and John Temperley voted against this appropriation.

Street Department, temporary clerks, $500.

Treasury Department, office shortages, $59.99. The shortages are believed due to errors made during the busy tax collection period.

Water Department, temporary clerks, $543.

Board of Public Welfare, clerical assistance, $2,500.

Board of Registrars of Voters, for cost of listing men and women 20 years old and over, $3,000. The work is to be done by members of the police force while off duty.

A Pledge Renewed

IN NORMAL TIMES it is customary for business, at the turn of the year, to enumerate its noteworthy achievements for the previous twelve months and to comment on its prospects for the coming year. But for more than a year this country has been an active participant in a global war which exceeds in magnitude and importance any other war.

The transcendent importance of victory for the United Nations renders the achievements of a single business of very small moment. Success or failure of any business for the duration will be measured in terms of its contribution to the great collective war effort. No individual achievement will be considered a success unless it has contributed to the advancement of the greatest cause in all history — Victory for the United Nations.

This objective should be and must be the "be-all" and "end-all" of every activity until victory is gained. Everything must be done that will help, and nothing must be done that will hinder, the early attainment of this result. This means the subordination of every other interest to the war effort.

Our fighting men, many of our great business enterprises, and large numbers of civilians have made the all-out conversion and subordination to the war effort. Their sacrifices and efforts have staved off defeat during the critical months of 1942. But the efforts and sacrifices of only part of this nation will not be sufficient for victory. Nothing short of an all-out effort of everyone and every business will suffice to overcome the desperate efforts of our enemies.

The sacrifices of our fighting men on land, on sea, and in the air impose on the rest of us a solemn and patriotic obligation to declare moratoria for at least the duration, on all prejudices, interests and activities which may detract from the war effort.

It seems untimely, if not almost treasonable, for individuals or groups of individuals to be taking advantage of this crisis to advance some selfish interest, not only irrelevant to the present great objective, but in many cases actually impeding the efforts of our armed forces.

The price of victory is going to be high — in lives, in money, and in sacrifices. But the price of defeat would be incalculable!

The United Nations up to date have been on the defensive. Now, for the first time, they are on the offensive. Now is the time for everyone who has victory for the United Nations at heart to make this all-out conversion and subordination to the war effort. Victory in Europe in 1943 is not only a hope — it is a possibility. It can become an actuality if all make the necessary sacrifices.

Boston Edison Company, in its annual report to stockholders dated February 24, 1942, made this pledge:

Until this war has been brought to a successful conclusion, the interests of our country and its allies transcend any and all other interests. Therefore, during this extreme emergency, the entire resources of your Company, animate and inanimate, must be devoted primarily and unstintingly to cooperation with and acceleration of the great war effort. In doing this, however, neither inconvenience nor sacrifice should be imposed unnecessarily or ruthlessly upon our customers, employees, or stockholders. Their interests must be given every consideration consistent with the Company's primary obligation to the country.

During 1942 the war effort has had prior claim on all facilities and resources of Boston Edison Company. Every requirement made on our system has been met. While our own personnel had much to do with this accomplishment, it would have been difficult if not impossible without the valuable aid and cooperation of the Governor of the Commonwealth, the Mayor of Boston, the mayors and selectmen of other cities and towns, the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities and other governmental authorities, the Army and Navy personnel, and the suppliers of coal and other materials and equipment.

We acknowledge with appreciation the assistance given to us in meeting our problems. On the threshold of the New Year, Boston Edison Company renews the pledge it made at the beginning of 1942.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"I will take the cup of salvation, and call upon the name of the Lord. I will pay my vows unto the Lord now in the presence of all his people." These words from Psalms 116:13,14 comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, January 10, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be: "Sacrament." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "Blessed are the pure of heart: for they shall see God" (Matthew 5:8).

The following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, included in the Lesson-Sermon, read as follows: "Through repentance, spiritual baptism, and regeneration, mortals put off their material beliefs and false individuality. One aim, a point beyond faith, should be to find the footsteps of Truth, the way to health and holiness. We should strive to reach the Horeb height where God is revealed; and the cornerstone of all spiritual building is purity" (pp. 242, 241).

PLEASE, PEDESTRIANS, READ!

Although many warnings have appeared in the newspapers from the Massachusetts Department of Public Safety and Registrar of Motor Vehicles, Frank A. Goodwin, relative to the dangers which exist to pedestrians in the dim-out areas, these warnings appear to have fallen on many deaf ears.

Anyone who has driven an automobile at night in many dim-out areas, such as Newton is, knows how difficult it is to observe people walking on the streets. Shaded street lights and drawn window shades in the home, make the highways very dark indeed. Yet, all who have driven automobiles under these conditions are amazed at the indifference to human life when they, by good fortune, narrowly miss hitting, or killing some pedestrians who are foolish enough to be walking on the street, rather than on the sidewalk, where they belong.

To those pedestrians who will persist in walking on the streets or crossing streets, please let us suggest that they take out their white handkerchiefs and wave them as they go along. If they do this, accidents, and more important, fatalities, will be immeasurably reduced.

Letters To The Editor

ARTHUR G. HOSMER

Editor, Newton Graphic:

May I say just a word concerning the passing of still another of Newton's splendid old-time residents, Mr. Arthur G. Hosmer of West Newton? Many of my pleasantest memories of Newton when I was a young man involve the personnel of The Players, including Mr. George Royal Pulsifer, Mr. Charles E. Hatfield, Mr. Thomas E. Stutson and Mr. Arthur G. Hosmer, to mention but a few. As a rather timid young amateur actor, I was tremendously awed by Mr. Hosmer, who was a remarkably efficient stage manager. Mr. Pulsifer might be the boss on the stage, but Mr. Hosmer ruled with an iron hand behind the scenes. His word was law and he never seemed to make a mistake. He was respected and beloved by all who were privileged to work with him or under him. Incidentally, severe critics praised his stage-settings without stint. The actors might fall below par once in a while, but the scenery and lighting effects were always above par. That was thirty years ago. Often have I wished that I might turn back the hands of time and re-live those happy days. No man contributed more to the happiness of the big family which is Players than did my genial, generous friend Arthur G. Hosmer.

This WEEK, This WORLD

by Ted Friend

It is quite possible that the Wheelers, Vandenberg, Tafts and Clarks, capitalizing on the euphoria which generally follows in the wake of war, will attempt to scuttle all programs for American participation in post-war responsibilities and, in the manner of the party-minded Senator Lodge and his associates after the last war, commit the country to isolationist channels.

If this should occur it may be expected that Great Britain, Russia and China, who have suffered grievously from Axis treachery and aggression, will be left to maintain peace. Should this occur it will further mean the permanent relegation of the United States to the category of politically immature states. It will prevent the end of the world people having the inherent strength and prestige of a world power voluntarily committing itself to the status of a third class nation.

The coming victory will release all the insidious forces which, by the advent of the war, have been forced underground. Political opportunism will again show its head and every cunct and medium which influenced even the smallest segment of the body-politic will come forth to prey on the single-mindedness of the American people. There will be a frantic reaching for votes by the "outs" to make them "ins" and every device of throwing confusion into the ranks of the people, including the sabotaging of the peace, will be resorted to by the astute, the shrewd and/or the corrupt.

The conflict will not stem from reactionary elements in the Republican party alone. Debased political thought in the Democratic party, as represented by Jim Crow anti-labor contingents, will lend a helping hand. Subversive such as William Dudley Pelley, Gerald B. Winrod and Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling will add their ideological weight; and confusionists such as Charles Coughlin, Representative Hoffman, Senator Bilbo, and "Cissy" Patterson will give their comfort, support or dollars as required. The fight, of course, will be on strictly patriotic grounds! It will be the same after this war, if the Roosevelt's (Dem. N. Y.), Willkie's (Rep. Ind.), Hull's (Dem. Tenn.), Stewarts (Rep. Minn.), Baldwins (Rep. Conn.), Brickers (Rep. Ohio), and Hollands (Dem. Penna.) are frustrated in their efforts to have the United States assume its rightful place of power and importance in the world scene.

In spite of his pompous lip service to the cause of the Axis, General Franco of Spain is stepping warily. It is remotely possible that Franco may yet throw his support to Germany and Italy but the sentiment is increasing against him. Such a misstep would be the undoing of Spain, regardless whether the United Nations or the Axis won the war.

An important influence in Franco's "on the fence" policy is the sentiment in Latin America, which is preponderantly pro-United Nations. As expressed by President Batista of Cuba, if Franco Spain should go to war with the United States, Latin America will side with the United Nations and if an invasion of Spain becomes necessary it would receive "a total ovation for the Allied cause." The importance of this statement, on the part of a Latin-American chief executive, was indicated by the prompt reaction which hysterically short-winded rumors that the United Nations was planning to use Spain as a base for attack on Nazi Europe.

Beg it, buy it, or borrow it, but Read It! "Sabotage" by Michael Sayers and Albert E. Kahn (Harvard) which in over two hundred and fifty pages of documented evidence reveals the full extent of the secret war against America invoked by the Nazis, Fascists and their underlings.

Word-eating sept. "In 1942 the Russian people will be definitely disposed of by the German armed forces under the personal command of the Fuehrer." From an interview by Ribbentrop on December 24, 1941, to the Spanish news agency, "E. F. E."

Thumbnail Portrait: It is inevitable that Labor will take its rightful place at the Peace Table after the holocaust is over. Very much present for Labor will be Britain's huge, ruddy-faced bullock Ernest Bevin, Minister of Labor and National Service since 1940, when Churchill became Prime Minister. They were implacable enemies but respected each other tremendously. It's to Churchill's credit that he selected an enemy to form his strong government regardless of party lines. Both Bevin's parents died before he was eight. A sister reared him. At 10 he worked on a farm for his board and 12 cents a week. He's been a page boy, conductor, shop clerk and truck driver and docked. Bevin bolted into national prominence when he made an eleven hour speech, before a Court of Inquiry and got dock workers a standard minimum wage. Sincere, belligerent, somewhat dictatorial, he saw that the weakness of trade unions in England was the great number of similar unions in the same trades. By 1922 he merged 32 unions into Transport & General Workers Union, and was elected its leader. He made the Labor's week Daily Herald a great voice with over a million readers. You can judge a man by his enemies; Bevin has been assailed bitterly by right and left, once sued the London Daily Worker for libel, when it charged he betrayed Trade Union interests. Bevin won, collected $28,000!

Mr. W. B. Wentworth is the architect of the new two-story building which the Lewandows Dye House are to build at Watertown.

Several new style telephones, called the "Pulsion" telephones have been put into Newton. Engine House No. 1, Daniel's stable and H. H. Miles are using them, finding them thus far very satisfactory.

The Newton Electric Light & Power Co. have run a line of poles from Nonantum to Watertown and will introduce the incandescent light as fast as desired into the stores.

Newton Graphic, January 6, 1893
The Free Library sent out 127,788 books last year, the largest by 17,000 of any year in its history. The next largest circulation was in 1891, when the number exceeded 110,000.

The movement in favor of afternoon sessions of the board of aldermen did not succeed, most of the members being unable to leave their business during the day time. As the members get no salaries they can hardly be expected to make any more sacrifices than are absolutely necessary, and the new members will find the demands upon their spare time all that they desire to give, even without afternoon sessions. The position of an alderman in the city of Newton is no sinecure.

The police force now number 33 men, city marshal, captain, inspector, two sergeants and 28 patrolmen. 4 additional patrolmen are to be appointed this year.

Commencing with the new year the real estate business heretofore conducted under the name of Alvord & Ward will be continued under the new name of Alvord Bros. & Co. This firm will continue their active operations in Newton Centre.

25 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, January 4, 1918
Mayor Edwin O. Childs was inaugurated as mayor for a third term on Tuesday afternoon at City Hall.

The Grand Military Ball in the State Armory eclipsed all previous social events of the season and a notable gathering of members of Newton society enjoyed the festivities.

Central Congregational Church of Newtonville held a special meeting which filled their chapel to the doors last Friday evening to accept the resignation of their pastor, Rev. A. J. Muste, which was presented to the church on December 9.

A service flag now floats in front of police headquarters from seven stars.

Censorship Office Asks Co-Operation

On battle fronts every day men risk their lives to discover the location and strength of the military units of the enemy. Yet at home, too many of us are present in the enemy with information of the same military value, the Office of Censorship says in a statement.

YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX

No. 1—WHAT IS INCOME TAX?

The federal income tax is, as the name implies, a tax levied upon incomes, and it is payable in relation to the amount of income. Income, for Federal income tax purposes, means in general any compensation for one's services, whether the compensation be in money or in goods or other services. It includes also the value received for the product of one's labor, as farm produce in the case of a farmer; income from investments; profit from business operations; and other gains from sales and exchanges of goods and property. Certain limited categories of income are, however, tax exempt, and to the extent of such exemption are excluded in computing the tax.

Because of exemptions from the tax given to persons having less than certain stated amounts of income, as well as because of various deductions and credits allowable, only a small proportion of the number of persons receiving income are liable for the tax. Thus, of the estimated 55 million persons in this country who received income in one form or another during the calendar year 1941, only some 26 million persons were required to file Federal income tax returns that year, while of these some 26 million, more than 9 million were not taxable due to credits and deductions allowable.

As a result of the lowering of exemptions, many more persons are now subject to the Federal income tax than before, and for the calendar year 1942 it is estimated that more than 35 million persons will file Federal income tax returns. To the large number of persons now subject to the Federal

This is the information which newspapers and individuals are asked not to tell the enemy:

DO NOT TELL the names of ships upon which sailors serve. DO NOT TELL the troop units in which soldiers serve overseas.

There is no objection to revealing that Pvt. John Jones is in Australia or that Seaman Tom Brown saw action in the Atlantic, but there is military information which endangers the lives of American fighting men in stating that Pvt. John Jones, "Company C, 600th Infantry," is in Australia, or Seaman Tom Brown, "Aboard the U. S. S. Wisconsin," is in the Atlantic.

The Office of Censorship says: "We ask editors not to publish troop identifications, and we ask parents and relatives not to reveal them. Don't give the enemy anything that may lengthen the war!"

While the editors of this paper endeavor to maintain a strict vigilance over all copy sent in for publication in order to conform to censorship regulations, there is always the possibility of a news item about some local individual in the armed service slipping by during the rush on publication day containing a ship or troop unit of such individual if such ship or troop unit is mentioned in the news item sent in by parents. We, therefore, ask each and every citizen to co-operate with this paper and the Office of Censorship in omitting such information when sent in news items about sons or daughters in the service of our country.

Washington — France's New Year gift from the Germans was an announcement of the execution of 25 more "French communists." Details are not given apart from the fact that these men were tried by a German military court and found guilty of "terrorism." The disconcerting thing about French "communists" is that they usually face the firing squad singing the "Marseillaise" instead of the "Internationale," and with the cry "Viva la France" on their dying lips.

Incidentally, it is not possible to keep count of executions anywhere in a German occupied Europe. They are kept secret except where the Nazis feel that a purpose can be served by releasing the gruesome news.

An interpretation of the four freedoms as the Chinese understand them (Axis please copy): "The four freedoms are freedom of speech, freedom of belief, freedom from want and freedom from fear — represent a new development in the philosophy of democracy."

Hitherto the freedoms of speech and belief have been considered as the fundamental freedoms in the democratic pattern of life. Men have died to defend these freedoms; nations have gone to war to preserve them. Today these freedoms have become the basic axioms in the philosophy of democracy.

However, it has long been realized that the legal guarantees of the freedoms of speech and belief is not enough in a real democracy. A citizen may express any idea or worship any deity as he pleases, but at the same time he may be on the verge of starvation or in the constant apprehension of some danger; such a citizen is half free and half a slave.

Our democracy will guarantee not only the freedom of speech and belief but also the freedom from want and fear. It will bring about a condition under which all citizens may be able to enjoy both material and mental security. A democracy is a state of free citizens, i.e., citizens who are free not only intellectually and religiously but also economically and psychologically.

Those tricycle ice cream wagons used by the roadside vendors of frozen sweets on a stick are filling a new wartime role in California. But instead of being filled with ice cream, they're loaded with airplane rivets.

Certain types of rivets must be refrigerated so that after they are driven home they will thaw out, expand and have greater holding power. Before the ice cream tricycles were called into service it was something of a problem to deliver the rivets, properly chilled, to the proper stations along the assembly line.

Now they're packed in small bags, like salted peanuts, chilled by dry ice and transported to the required points by girls who pedal the tricycles at the rate of ten miles an hour.

Walter Pierce Predicts: Watch

Spain when United Nations throw Hitler out of Africa. Action there will be his last effort to forestall invasion of southern Europe. . . . F. D. R.'s strategy with the new Congress will probably follow these lines: Not to submit any controversial matters; hold up any new plans for social security expansion until the war is over; ask legislation only after getting strong public support. . . . A. F. of L. and C. I. O. will line up with the Government in forthcoming franchise over whether Government or the State shall control U. S. Employment Service and Unemployment Insurance. Pressure will be applied to put "corner loafers" to work in farm labor soon. . . . A United States Army of 7,500,000 will probably be tops. Emphasis by this country will be more and more on war production, less on fighting men. . . . Politics likely to predict the war's end in 1943, wiser heads merely say victory over Germany is possible this year—not certain. Defeat of Japan in 1944 or '45 probable.

ZONTA

In spite of inclement weather the Newton Zonta Club met Monday evening, Jan. 4th, at the home of Mrs. L. Maud Stevens, 63 Page rd., Newtonville.

The Club with guests enjoyed readings by Miss Mary Barbour of Prince st., West Newton. "A. B. C." by Frances Lester Warner presented clearly the interesting way the children are taught to read today in contrast with the manner by which they learned to read in the earlier part of the twentieth century.

The clear portrayal of a man as a host, in "The Carver," also by Miss Warner, lucidly described the thoughts of a husband being watched by his wife during the process of carving.

"I've Got Your Number," by Mary Alden Hopkins, contributed much amusement to the consummation of the program.

Hostess, Mrs. L. Maud Stevens, assisted by Alice May Doney, Jessie Hilliard, Hilga Nelson and Bertha Dudley served refreshments. Mrs. S. A. Colpitts of West Newton, poured.

Respectfully, BERTHA PUTNEY DUDLEY, Chairman of Publicity.

Pre-Flight Training

airplane maintenance workers for air fields. Repairmen take longer training than the usual 22 week course, for to become an expert repairman specialist, requires a full two year course.

Dr. Holmes believed that more emphasis would be placed on the human side of life as the world of flight shortened spaces and periods of time and that as one had expressed: "Humanity is going to realize its humanity." The war is going to bring folks together. Races will not be strangers. History will be world history, not small sectors of the world. We have to think in terms of the world. Such subjects as human geography, social studies for the Air Age, the mathematics of flying, world meteorology, etc., will come more and more to be important subjects to read about and study. In conclusion, he said, that military might, without morals, means murder; morals without military force means suicide; but with world minded flyers whose aims are not aggressive but only directed toward peace is the world we are teaching our boys and girls to enter prepared to share its opportunities and responsibilities.

Superintendent Julius E. Warren said that the impact of war on this generation is grim and serious. Great changes have transpired in our school system to actively meet the challenge of preparing our youth for a country at war. Pre-flight courses were first established during this last summer. Teachers have taken special study courses and the best minds have undertaken to make the student body air-minded, conscious of geography, utilizing our resources to do the job intelligently and well in developing the aptitudes of the students to Army needs and pre-induction requirements. Mr. Warren said there were 430 boys and girls attending Trade and High School courses in these special courses. Every effort was being made to make them rugged physically.

That a beginning had been made in breaking away from a traditional program, he referred to Mr. McNulty's statement that the "Kind of Army that is being built today is an army of specialists. Specialists in tools, maps, blueprints, technical subjects, precision work. Those who are qualified for advanced scientific training and physically right."

The pre-flight educational program aims to reach the girls, teaching them skills for industry and business formerly carried by boys. Such skills as drafting, electric assembling, radio work, maintenance and a great many other fields for specialists opportunities. A new offering is a "Pre-Induction Course" for all students to gain specific skills required before induction into military service. One of the acute problems is providing an adequate physical program, due to shortage of teaching material. It is almost impossible to secure needed instructors. Twenty-five teachers have gone into military service. The substitute teachers, numbering approximately 53, nearly 10 per cent of the teaching staff, are doing fine work.

Supt. Warren hopes the mistakes of 1918-19 would not be repeated, but warned that adults should educate themselves more in the issues involved in "the world of tomorrow." "The people of our generation," he said, "not our children, must be prepared to meet economic problems, racial questions, and legislative changes, if we are to have a permanent peace." "Looking to the future," he said, "we've got to go to school, adults as well as our youth, to be intelligent in solving the ten or twelve vital fundamental issues before us. We need millions thinking clearly, fairly and intelligently to build a program that will make the world a happier place in which to live."

The Weeks Jr. High School, built in 1930, has graduated approximately 3,600 boys and girls. Its present enrollment numbers 1,038. The Parent-Teacher Association organization has been in existence since 1931 and it has a membership well over five hundred. It is one of the few Junior High Schools in the city that has a Parent-Teacher Association. Among those who have served as presidents of this association are: Albert M. Chandler, Tressler Calahan, Kark M. Bowman, Ben Roberts, Charles E. Bailey, Carroll L. Wilson, Ray S. Kelley, C. Yardley Chittick and Henry S. C. Cummings. Other officers this year include: Miss Celia A. Russell, Vice-President; Arthur W. Howard, treasurer; Mrs. Kenneth S. Nugent, Waban, secretary; and Mrs. Neil Leonard, Newton Centre, Historian. The next meeting of the Association will be held on March 2, when there will be a Parent-Teacher conference.

completed, Neil Leonard, Newton chairman, announced. All organization will be completed and pre-campaign plans consummated, he declared, well before the opening of the Newton campaign at a dinner Monday evening, January 18, at the Newton High School. At this opening event of the entire Newton Campaign organization, which he said, augured well for realizing its 1943 quota of $315,000, Mr. Cabot declared, "I know that you will not fail because I know that the people of Newton have the willingness to sacrifice and the will to win."

"Your task is not an easy one," the Fund's general chairman declared. "For many, giving will be hard this year and $7,800,000 is an enormous sum to raise. We will have to sacrifice much to put this campaign over the top. But it is anything to what our sons and daughters and allies are doing on the battlefronts all over the world? Little children are dropping of starvation in the streets of Greece. Russians are fighting and freezing to death. Hundreds of war prisoners are watching their lives go by hemmed in by barbed wire. Can't we sacrifice a bit?"

"The courage, fortitude and ability of our fighting men and those of our allies will win this war. Let us here highly resolve that they have nobly saved and we have meanly lost the last and best hope on earth!"

"We have pointed the finger of 'too little too late' at many others. Let us not make the same mistake. Our battle cry must be 'Give enough soon enough.'"

Citing the work of the Advance Gifts Division as an example, Mr. Leonard expressed his appreciation to all his co-workers in the Newton campaign organization for their enthusiasm, unflagging interest and indefatigable labor. The enrollment of 2400 volunteer workers had gone beyond the 95 per cent mark to date, he announced, with public solicitation still two weeks off.

At the chairman's table with Mr. and Mrs. Jones were the speakers and their wives, Mayor and Mrs. Paul M. Goddard and Mr. Hitchen. In keeping with the war service appeal of the 1943 campaign, Miss Ruth Perkins, soloist of the Second Church in Newton, led the gathering in singing the National anthem and currently popular war songs.

All the village campaign organizations of the Residential Division, of which Thomas E. Shirley is chairman, will hold final meetings of workers from January 6 to 13. Enrollment of teams will be completed and plans perfected for the public solicitation which starts January 19 and continues until February 9.

The Municipal Division, headed by Charles C. Dasey, will hold its pre-campaign dinner meeting in the hall next Monday (January 11) at 5:45. The city employees serving the campaign will be addressed by Mayor Goddard and Mr. Leonard.

With a luncheon meeting at the Brae Burn Country Club next Tuesday the Women's Division, of which Mrs. Edgar S. Burkhardt is chairman, will complete plans for the intensive solicitation of all Newton commercial establishments.

Advance Gifts Group in Dinner Meeting Tuesday

Opening Greater Boston United War Fund Season in Newton, the Advance Gifts Division held its dinner party last Tuesday evening at the Brae Burn Country Club. As chairman of the division, Durham Jones presided.

The speakers were Dr. Herbert J. Gezork, assistant professor of Biblical history at Wellesley College and associate professor of social ethics at the Newton-Andover Theological Seminary; Charles C. Cabot, general chairman of the Greater Boston United War Fund; and Neil Leonard, chairman of the Newton campaign organization. Arrangements were in charge of Charles M. Cutler, vice chairman of the Advance Gifts Division. The Rev. Herbert Hitchen, of the Unitarian Church of West Newton, delivered the invocation.

Paying tribute to the kind of world and way of life America and the United Nations are striving to maintain, Prof. Gezork contrasted the voluntary participation in community service in a democracy with the strong-arm methods of meeting human needs in a dictatorship. He spoke as an authority, having been a witness and victim of "giving" under Nazism. His anti-fighter activities as general secretary of the German Baptist Youth Movement caused his departure from his homeland to seek haven in free America.

Complimenting Newton for its splendid results in past campaigns, which he said, augured well for realizing its 1943 quota of $315,000, Mr. Cabot declared, "I know that you will not fail because I know that the people of Newton have the willingness to sacrifice and the will to win."

POLITICS WITH COLOR

By P. W. C.

Statesmen or Politicians

Once upon a time there was a humorous saying that, "A statesman is a dead politician." That may or may not be true. So far as this columnist is concerned, there is a lot more to it than that. A real statesman is as far above a typical politician as a veteran college professor is above a bright, young tutor. Now, bright, young tutors do not necessarily become professors, regardless of their length of service; neither do typical, hard-boiled politicians necessarily become statesmen. Thousands of ambitious young men, especially those with legal training, can set out to become politicians and eventually achieve a reputation for handling men skillfully or retting legislation passed quickly and noiselessly. Statesmen, however, are in many cases born, rather than made. A man with narrow interests and limited vision can never become a statesman. To be a real statesman, a man must see all around a problem; he must be able to visualize the long-term effect of legislation about to be passed; he must see the problem in hand in its proper relation to other current problems.

Why do I stress this point now? For the simple reason that I am desperately worried about the apparent scarcity of real statesmen in our public service. Even those whom we have inclined to include in more official maneuvering than is healthy. Just stop and consider the unwholesome activities of the farm bloc, the labor bloc, the veterans bloc and many, many other pressure groups in the recent Congress. It was nauseating to see our statesmen, who seldom bothers about political matters. The average citizen is an innocent, naive person, who assumes that a Congressman or a state legislator is a skilled public servant, constantly watching out for the best interests of his constituency and the nation or the state as a whole. What a beautiful dream! I will grant, of course, that most of our legislators have the best of intentions, especially when they are first elected. However, once they become accustomed to their new office and get to know the ropes, they spend a vast amount of time figuring how they can be sure of re-election or advancement to some other, or more desirable office. They discover that they have become members of "the club," as the distinguished gentlemen in the United States Senate save, privately, of our own state legislatures, frequent indication of their feeling that they, too, constitute a somewhat exclusive club, whose members instinctively band together in defense of each other when one of them is under attack. They are not alone in this. They are not alone in this. They are not alone in this.

Howard J. Keough of 68 Boyd st., Newton, died at his home on Sunday, January 3. Mr. Keough, who was in his 35th year, had been engaged in the painting contracting business. Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Helen E. (Sullivan) Keough, and two daughters, Marie, 12 and Agnes, 10, both of whom are at home. Also surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Keough of Newton, Charles E. of Rye, New Hampshire, and Private Sidney Keough, U. S. Army.

list. In the meantime, I call attention to Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin's proposed program for the G. O. P., as published in today's papers. Martin's seventh specific objective reads as follows: "Release of every third federal employee in the regular establishments for war work." That sounds as if the Republican leader in Congress was sure of his ground. No intelligent Congressman would recommend a cut of one-third in government personnel unless there was a ghastly waste of precious manpower.

Also, I wish to thank my good friend R. S. E. for his generous commendation of my recent column about the Roosevelt sons. We all make mistakes and we all find good and sufficient reasons for changing our estimate of individuals with the passing of the years. As the New Year rolls along, let's all try to become a bit more mellow and generous in our appraisal of friend and foe alike.

Grant Temporary Permit for Light Manufacturing

The petition of the Doelcam Machine Company, for a permit to establish a plant for light manufacturing in the former telephone exchange building at West Newton, was granted by the Board of Aldermen at their meeting on Monday night, "for the duration and one year."

The board received a petition signed by 42 residents of West Newton, accompanied by a letter from their attorney, James P. Gallagher, in which they stated that they were opposed to the use of the building for manufacturing in a business zone, but in view of war necessity for the plant they were willing to withhold their opposition if the permit were granted subject to the condition that the plant be vacated after the war.

Women AT WAR

Rosebud is eight, and the most beautiful shade of caramel fudge. To her loving Mamma and Pappy she is known, on approximately alternate days, as "Angel" and "Devil child." It was on her devil child days that Rosebud tied the strings in the shirts that Mamma had taken in for washing, and poured the whole of the vanilla bottle into the lamb stew, just, she said later through bitter tears, to "flavor it up."

On her angel days Rosebud is equally imaginative even if a more regular occupant of the little shack down on Vinegar Hill. Once when she was out doing day work, Rosebud got a wave of cleaning fever and scoured every pot and pan in the kitchen so that they literally glistened. Another day, left alone, she tidied up Mammy's and Pappy's room to such a point of apple-pie order that it was a week before Pappy could find an undershirt.

Rosebud is a great reader of the newspapers. Mammy and Pappy don't take one, but there are plenty of perfectly good newspapers blowing round Vinegar Hill. It was out of one of them that Rosebud got her idea for spending the ten cent she had hidden under her pillow the night her tooth came out. After breakfast Rosebud disappeared down the hill and reappeared soon after with a beautiful ten-cent War Stamp pasted firmly into a brand-new book with neat little squares for more stamps. She displayed her investment to Mammy. "I declare you're an angel child," Mammy said. Rosebud went on sitting on the kitchen floor staring with large brown eyes at the empty squares in her book. From time to time she took hold of one or another of her teeth and wiggled it, gently.

Mammy was engrossed in a particularly big washing. Rosebud was as quiet as a mouse and Mammy forgot about her until, coming in from the yard with her arms full of dry sheets, she encountered her child with a large hammer in her hand. "I'm just filling up my stamp book," Rosebud said. "I'm just filling up my stamp book," Rosebud said. "I'm just filling up my stamp book," Rosebud said.

But what was done was done. In Rosebud's other hand was another hammer. Her mouth was stretched in a broad if slightly bloody smile. "I ain't doing nothing, Mammy," she said. "I'm just filling up my stamp book."

Makeup—Ancient Art Is Discussed

The origin and growth of makeup was discussed at the meeting of the Newton Junior Community Club by Miss Bessie M. Stratton in her talk, "Make-Up, an Ancient Art." Miss Stratton is director of Religious Education at Eliot Church in Newton.

Make-up and masks were first used by primitive tribes, it being their belief that it would frighten away evil spirits. Later these arts were used in religious rites and the same patterns were in use for generations. Make-up took an added interest when it was used for dramatic purposes and from the Shakespearean era up until the beginning of the 19th century it became an increasingly important factor of stage work. The art, as it is mastered today, belongs to our age as it was not until the advent of electric lights that the more artistic touch had to be perfected. Miss Stratton applied make-up to members depicting various ages.

Piano selections were presented by Miss Rachel Koumrian of Brighton.

Mrs. C. Lawrence Barber, President, conducted the business meeting. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Miss Margaret Wilson, recording secretary. Miss Faith Stanton, chairman of the sports committee, reported on results of the bowling and announced that bowling will be held hereafter every Monday evening until further notice.

Refreshments were served by members of the music and drama committee, Miss Betty Tobey, chairman, assisted by Miss Jane Mansfield and Miss Virginia Rowland.

Exhibition To Continue Through January 22

School of Art, and present an instructor at the Vesper George School, Boston, and at Wellesley College, showed water-color panels. Mr. Paul G. Jenney, a graduate in Landscape Architecture, who began painting as a hobby 11 years ago, and who studied with the late Charles H. Woodbury and later with Mr. Eliot O'Hara, showed paintings. Mrs. Finis Macomber MacLeod, a former student of Bashka Paef, exhibited some of her sculpture, including a recent work, a relief of the poet, Robert Frost.

Mrs. William Cushing Loring arranged this exhibition and Mrs. Harry M. Ramsey was in charge of the tea.

The exhibition will continue through Jan. 22, and the gallery will be open to the public afternoons from 2 to 4:30 o'clock.

Newton Hospital & Household Nursing Association Training Hospital Aides

Out of the war have come many new fields of opportunity for women. One of these is open at the Newton Hospital, which is co-operating with the Household Nursing Association in Boston in training paid hospital aides. This vocation is especially for girls between 17-20 who wish to help in the war effort and at the same time find out if nursing should be their career.

Eleven of these young women are at present working in the wards of the hospital, helping registered nurses in the care of patients. Now that hospital staffs have been depleted so seriously by the needs of the Army and Navy, aids perform an invaluable service. They are able to release registered nurses for more important tasks by taking temperatures, feeding infants, making and serving beverages, taking care of flowers, and other necessary small jobs.

This course must not be confused with the training given by the Red Cross to the Volunteer Nurses' Aide Corps, which is designed mostly for women with other positions and interests who can devote only part-time to nursing. The aides trained by the hospital and the Household Nursing Association work full-time and live at the hospital.

Local girls who have taken the course are Ruth Feich of 21 Kimball ter., Newtonville, now at the Cable Memorial Hospital in Ipswich; Edith Lynch of 29 Marlboro st., Newton, now at the Salem Hospital; Kathryn McCormick of 230 Walnut st., Newton, now at the Springfield Hospital, and Patricia Buckley of 165 Harvard st., Newtonville, now at the Waltham Hospital.

The course consists of one month's training at the Boston headquarters where the aides are taught elementary physiology, child care, social relationships, sanitation, and simple nursing procedures. They are then sent to the hospitals where they are paid for their services and receive full maintenance.

A new class begins on Jan. 27, and the hospitals need more women to insure good care for the civilian population. Further information may be obtained from the Center for Aides, 230 Newbury st., Boston.

GREATER BOSTON UNITED WAR FUND

THE CITY OF NEWTON,
MASSACHUSETTS

By His Honor
PAUL M. GODDARD
Mayor

A Proclamation

Our boys have gone by the thousands and tens of thousands to the far corners of the earth. They face privation and sacrifice, and stand ready and eager to give their lives if need be, to hold the enemy far from our peaceful homes that we shall not experience face to face the awful horrors of war. They are doing this with all the fresh idealism of youth, an idealism reborn with each generation and which constantly strives to make this a better world.

Our citizens of Newton and Greater Boston have bid God-speed to these boys with a solemn pledge indelibly written in our hearts to protect and care for their homes and loved ones to whom they smilingly bid adieu. May God grant that we keep faith with all who are fighting for us, and with our neighbors across the sea.

The United War Fund Campaign of 1942, following so soon after Pearl Harbor was Greater Boston's answer to this challenge. Our determination to win this war and maintain our way of life has been magnified with each successive month. Our Americanism will stand the test, for we have resolved to preserve for ourselves and posterity that freedom for which we are fighting. America lives, not for itself, but for the sake of the helpless, for the infirm, for the unfortunate, for little children, for our neighbors here and abroad. America lives, not for itself, but to fulfill its supreme destiny to this generation and the generations to come.

America lives for those democratic principles upon which it was founded, and this great country of ours depends upon us, in our day, to keep the faith.

Cutter Estate Purchased By Cardinal O'Connell As Home for Aged Blind

The Victor M. Cutter estate at 764 Centre st., Newton, has been purchased for the Archdiocese of Boston, by His Eminence, Cardinal O'Connell, to be used as a home for the aged blind. The Sisters of St. Joseph will be in charge of the new home and it will be under the direction of Rev. John J. Connelly, Director of the Catholic Guild for the Blind.

The spiritual and physical care of the blind has been very dear to the heart of Cardinal O'Connell during all the years of his priestly life, and the acquiring of the Cutter Estate completes another step in the expansion of the great work which has been carried on by the Catholic Guild for the Blind. Many of the aged blind who have been very lonely or in poor circumstances will be cared for at this new home by the kind sisters of St. Joseph.

Work among the blind of the Archdiocese has been in progress for the past twenty years, but recognizing the need of specialized work in their behalf, His Eminence founded the Catholic Guild for the Blind on September 15, 1936, the Feast of the Seven Sorrows of Our Lady. The program of the Guild is two-fold, spiritual and material; and it aims to give consolation to the aged blind and opportunity to the blind youth, commensurate with their talents.

At present the Guild serves seventeen hundred blind persons in the Archdiocese. It offers a complete program of service. For example, there are retreats for young and old. The Guild provides catechetical instruction for the young at Perkins Institution for the Blind. At present, twelve Sisters of St. Joseph, under the direction of Rev. Thomas J. Carroll, Assistant Director of the Guild, give religious instruction at the Institution weekly.

The Guild provides a guide and motor service for attendance at Mass and the Sacraments and also for visits to hospitals and clinics. It also provides a reader service for students. This has been valuable particularly to those who are in college, as well as to the students of the Upper School at Perkins Institution. At present the Guild is building up a Catholic braille library with the aid of the Works Progress Administration and now boasts of a library of several hundred volumes in braille.

Higher education is one of the special interests of the Guild. This year the Guild has six young people in college; one at the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston; one at Boston College; one at Holy Cross College, Worcester; one at the University of Notre Dame in Indiana; one at Regis College, Weston. All these students are enjoying scholarships and, without exception, are doing excellent work.

Procurement of profitable employment, in business and in industry, is one of the most important works of the Guild. The Guild also conducts its own Sewing Circle of thirty devoted Catholic women who volunteer their services in a number of ways as opportunity affords. The Guild also gives material aid, hospitalization and nursing care when necessary.

Salvation Army Fund Campaign Well Under Way

It is pointed out by William A. Nicol, public relations secretary of The Salvation Army, and in charge of the annual appeal plans in Newton for $6000, that all those who hand or mail their contributions to the campaign treasurer, William M. Cahill, will not be called on by the staff of collectors now at work in Newton. Mr. Cahill is treasurer of the Newton Trust Company, Newton Centre, to whom your checks or cash may be given or sent.

Six collectors continue to assist in reaching the goal. They are all attired in Salvation Army uniform and carry proper identifications that include a letter which is signed by State Representative Douglass B. Francis, the chairman of Newton's sponsoring committee. The sponsoring committee is hopeful of setting a new high in the Newton appeal so that provisions may be made for the retention of additional funds for the Newton Emergency Fund of The Salvation Army, which is headed by Mr. Francis and Mr. Cahill in cooperation with Miss Harriet Parsons, Miss Gertrude W. Allen and James C. Reynolds.

In the pamphlet that accompanied Mr. Francis's appeal letter, it was shown that an unfortunate man was given weeks of treatment at the Washington Hospital, in Boston; that a worthy boy was afforded tuition at the Lincoln Technical Institute; a girl was aided in paying her school tuition; several men and women were provided with medical attention and eleven boys, seven girls, three mothers and two infants were sent to the Army's Fresh Air Camp, "Wonderland," in Sharon.

This is just part of the work that those who aid The Salvation Army appeal has a part in. Every one of the units of service in Boston is ever at the call of any Newton man or woman. This fact is well known to the leaders and sponsors in the Army's effort in Newton.

Francis J. Cook, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Cook of 381 Newtonville ave., Newtonville, has been advanced to first class pharmacist mate in the U. S. Coast Guard, and has been assigned to Texas where he will set up a mobile dental unit. He was graduated from the Newton High School in 1939 and joined the Coast Guard in April 1940.

Newton Days At Donor Center

Thursday and Friday, Jan. 28 and 29 Set Apart For Newton Citizens

To the Citizens of Newton: Thursday and Friday, Jan. 28 and 29, between the hours of 9 a. m., and 9 p. m., will be Newton Days at the American Red Cross Blood Donor Center, 691 Boylston st., Boston, Mass. The purpose of these days is to give Citizens of Newton the opportunity to donate a pint of their blood for Blood Plasma now being solicited by the American Red Cross.

The quota required has been advanced to 3000 pints a week, and it is hoped that enough Newton men and women will volunteer on these dates to provide 1000 pints of blood.

This blood so donated will be used to save the lives of our fighting men and women in the armed forces as past donations have already done, and the urgent need for such donations is well known to everyone.

Donors must be between the ages of 18 and 60 years, with minors 18 to 20 inclusive having permission of their parents or guardians. Appointments may be made by calling the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross at Lasell 6000.

This is a painless sacrifice on our part and will save the lives of many of those who are fighting so valiantly for us.

Newton School Bond Sales Last Month $25,488.60

The schools of Newton purchased $25,488.60 War Savings Stamps and Bonds during the month of December. This figure brings the total, during the period of selling from March thru a seven month period, to well over $100,000.

The Frank A. Day Junior High School is the first of our schools to fly the "Minute Man" flag below the "Stars and Stripes." This denotes a minimum participation of 90 per cent of the school. This particular school reached 95.5 per cent. As long as they average 90 per cent or better, the flag is theirs to fly.

The Women's division of the Newton War Savings Stamps and Bonds Committee reports that in addition to the above, their booths in six banks, two retail stores, nine Wos. Clubs and two Junior Wos. Clubs, sold a total of $111,669.05.

The quota given Newton by the Government for December was $275,000.00. The grand total of $137,157.65 represents a creditable share for the Women's Division.

The quota given for January is $367,000. This means that many more people will have to purchase stamps and bonds than have heretofore, if we are to reach this amount.

Armed Bandit Robs Drug Store

As William Hahn, proprietor of Hahn's Drug Store at 105 Union st., Newton Centre, was about to close the store on Monday night an armed bandit entered and pointing a revolver at Hahn demanded the money in the cash register. After taking the money from the register he then forced Hahn and a clerk, Robert Vachon, into a back room warning them to stay there for five minutes and not to call the police.

After the bandit had departed Hahn telephoned the police and a search was made of the section but no trace of the bandit could be found. He was described as about 25 years old, 5 ft. 8 inches tall, weighing about 150 lbs. and wearing a brown coat and gray cap.

CARRYING 1943 FUND APPEAL TO MERCHANTS

Mrs. Edgar S. Burkhardt, chairman of the Newton Women's Division of the Greater Boston United War Fund, is carrying the 1943 appeal for the support of all-time and wartime social services to all retail establishments in the city. Mrs. Burkhardt met with her co-workers at a luncheon meeting Tuesday (Jan. 12) to complete plans for solicitation which begins January 19 and continues until February 9.

Stirred as never before by the wartime needs of those in the armed forces, the dread despair of stricken millions of the United Nations and the responsibility of keeping the home front the kind of community for which our fighting men are staking their lives, Newton, under the leadership of Neil Leonard, is girding itself for an all-time record in the campaign to raise its quota of $315,000 of the $7,800,000 goal of the Greater Boston United War Fund.

With 2527 volunteer workers enrolled by Tuesday of this week, the quota of 2400 is now more than 105 per cent of the number sought. This is concrete evidence, Mr. Leonard declared, of the united community support behind the 1943 appeal and augurs well for the complete success of the campaign in this city.

Completing organization activities, the Municipal Division, headed by Charles C. Dasey, held meetings of its workers this week. The section carrying the appeal to employees of Newton public departments met at the City Hall Monday, with Alexander A. Robertson, divisional vice chairman, presiding. The assembled workers, numbering forty-seven, were addressed by Mayor Paul M. Goddard, Mr. Dasey and H. J. Pettengill, executive director of the Newton Community Chest. Attending the meeting were James P. Reynolds, director of the Department of Public Welfare; Julius E. Warren, superintendent of schools, and Alderman Theodore O. Lockwood, 1942 chairman of the Municipal Division.

The schools section, led by Mr. Warren, also a divisional vice chairman, met Wednesday afternoon at the Newton High School. With an enrollment of seventy, this campaign unit will seek subscriptions from the staffs of the city's educational system. Speaking at the schools-section meeting were Mr. Leonard and Mr. Dasey, with Mr. Warren presiding.

Addressing the employees of public departments, Mayor Goddard declared that he was "proud of what the Municipal Division has done" in past campaigns. The way Newton people respond, he pointed out, is shown by their willingness to serve in any capacity asked, as exemplified by their readiness to accept appointment to volunteer posts. In 1941, the mayor said, the Municipal Division raised more than in the previous four years, and its results last year were 40 per cent ahead of 1941. In this year's campaign he expects "the Municipal Division to be right up at the top."

"Our responsibility," said Mr. Dasey, "is to support our social agencies so that our youth will have a healthy and normal existence." Campaign results, he stressed, should enable those at home to say to our fighting men, "While you were away, we did our part." Prisoners of war must be helped to endure the dreary, spirit-breaking confinement behind barbed wire, he declared, and aid must be given "the hungry, homeless and frightened" war victims among our

C. Cabot, general chairman of the Greater Boston United War Fund; Harry H. Kay, chairman of the division's Men's Advisory Committee, and Mr. Pettengill. The Rev. James Cony MacDonald, pastor of the Union Church in Waban, asked the blessing.

Working and giving to the United War Fund is "directly connected with the winning of the war and the winning of the peace," Mr. Cabot stressed. Home-front social agencies, he said, are vital in "keeping up the health, spirit and character of people at home." As a war service, he declared, civilians have the obligation to our armed forces "to maintain what they are fighting for" and to give them a "feeling of home" through the USO.

Introduced by Mrs. Burkhardt, the village chairmen are: Auburndale, Mrs. James Dunlop; Newton, Mrs. Durham Jones; Newton Centre, Mrs. Mabel C. Webber; Newton Highlands, Mrs. John E. Peakes; Newton Lower Falls, Mrs. Howard Lewis; Newton Upper Falls, Mrs. Albert Proctor. (Continued on page 6)

New Quadruple Fire Truck Arrives

Mayor Goddard, Following Inspection, Signs Contract

Mayor Paul M. Goddard officially inspected the new quadruple ladder truck of the Newton Fire Department on Friday in front of the City Hall, in the presence of Acting Chief John L. Keating, Lieut. Charles Kramp, superintendent of motors of the Newton Fire Department, and a representative of the Maxim Motor Company of Middleboro, manufacturers of the apparatus. Following the inspection Mayor Goddard signed the contract for the purchase of the truck.

The truck, which has a 50-foot ladder, also carries 1000 feet of 2 1/2-inch hose, a booster pump and a 750-gallon centrifugal pump, thus combining four features. It will be located at Ladder 2 Station, Newton Highlands, and will be put into service in about two weeks. The ladder truck now in service at Ladder 2 will be transferred to Engine 9, Chestnut Hill, where alterations have been made for accommodation of this truck.

An appropriation was made last year by the Board of Aldermen for the purchase of an aerial ladder truck, but due to the fact that the manufacture of the mechanism for operating that type of ladder is being devoted entirely to Army equipment, it was impossible to purchase the aerial truck and it was then decided upon to purchase the quadruple ladder truck.

Mrs. Benjamin G. Rae, Chairman and her group of hostesses served a very enjoyable tea during the social hour following the meeting.

Will you be a hero to him?

To this boy the war is more than table-talk at home. It's a ghastly hell of deadly torpedoes and screaming bombs. But until one comes along "with his name on it," he'll keep fighting to settle the score with a Nazi or take one last crack at a Jap.

Wouldn't you like to know that a few of your dollars had enabled the USO to add a bit of silver lining to his dark clouds of war? Or helped the War Prisoners Aid bring cheer to a buddy behind barbed wire?

Your dollars can do that — and more — if you give enough soon enough to the United War Fund.

Those dollars will also help to bring food, shelter and clothing to our helpless Allies in the conquered countries... provide medical aid to our sick at home... care for our aged... enable visiting nurses, clinics, youth and welfare agencies to carry on.

Don't let it be said that you gave too little too late.

Give enough... soon enough!

TWO THINGS YOU CAN SPARE

Old eyeglasses that no one uses and steel knitting needles. The glasses are needed for those who need, but cannot afford to buy them. The old metal frames are melted down and the metal sold. With this money new glasses are bought, made to individual prescription, for those who sorely need them. Used rimmed glasses are refitted with new lenses.

The steel knitting needles are used to make the metal points for the darts used with the dart games so popular with service men. Inmates of such institutions are busy making the dart boards, but it is now impossible to get the necessary metal for the dart points. One needle will provide six dart points and six darts will bring much fun to many soldiers.

PROSPECTS BRIGHTEN FOR HOME REPAIRS AND MAINTENANCE, SAYS FOUNDATION

With war construction over the peak, more basic materials for the maintenance and repairs of homes will be available, Northeastern Homes Foundation points out. This will not apply to materials made of critical metals, such as copper wiring, the Foundation warns, but does assure increasing supply of lumber for general civilian use.

"There are prospects that nails will be supplied for home repair and maintenance work generally, outside the official critical housing areas," says Paul S. Collier, Director of Northeastern Homes Foundation. "Effective quantities of nails may be produced as a by-product of steel for war uses, and the Government is providing for their supply for essential civilian needs."

"One such need is centered in the 37 million dwelling units on the farms and in the towns of the United States," as shown by the 1940 census. Over half of those homes were then listed as needing repair. That serious situation has been intensified by wartime building restrictions, coupled with the mistaken idea held by many that any kind of civilian building in wartime is unpatriotic.

"The absolute essential of a family dwelling, in relation to the health and safety of the occupants, is sound roof and walls. Commonly lumber, shingles and nails are sufficient materials for thorough repair of the roof and the householder himself has the skill to do the job. It is a job that is really war work, else the Government would not provide for its being done in the emergency. The Peck Lumber Co. is equipped to provide full information on how home repairs may be done."

ARMY EMERGENCY RELIEF PINCH-HITTING FOR ALLOTMENTS

Army Emergency Relief is now pinch-hitting for delayed allotments, Major Francis W. Cronan, Army Emergency Relief Officer for the First Service Command, announced.

"If the non-arrival of an allotment from a soldier is creating a hardship," Major Cronan explained, "AER is in a position to extend loans without interest, or in extreme cases to make cash grants to dependents of men in the Army of the United States. This is in keeping with 'The Army Looks After Its Own.'"

"Provided an AER station is not convenient, information can be obtained from the nearest Red Cross Chapter."

"Applicants for Army Emergency Relief should write or go to the AER Section Office nearest their homes or stations."

Alice in Wonderland...

The Ceiling Mystery

By Mary K. Allen

(Concluded)

"Why," asked Alice moodily, looking from some steak, labelled $0.75 a pound to some stew, labelled $3.35, "Was the price of food allowed to get so high before the ceilings were put on?"

Neither the March Hare nor the Mad Hatter could answer the question, so, not to lose "face," they pretended not to have heard, until the March Hare remembered an unread pamphlet in his pocket and thrust it at Alice. This is the gist of what she read.

When Congress passed the price regulation law last January, it felt that farmers didn't always get a square deal, so the law should be as fair as possible to them. A farmer may work from dawn to dark, but when he sells his crop, it may be for so low a price that he gets hardly fifteen or twenty cents an hour for his labor. That means that when he goes to town to buy a suit of clothes, the suit may cost him days and days, even weeks, of work, while he can hardly afford at all the machines he needs.

Congress has tried many ways to get higher prices for the farmer's crops, so that he would earn for his labor and his investment on the same basis as men in other lines earn for their labor and investment. In this price regulation law, Congress calls this making the dollar that the farmer earns count to the dollar that he has to spend, and gives the name, "parity," to this idea. In the law is a formula by which it may be decided when the farmer's prices are such as to give him this parity.

So far, so good; but then Congress went one better (or worse) and gave the farmer a bonus, stating that he should receive prices that would give him ten per cent more than this equality or parity. And how did it work out?

Last May, when price regulation was put into effect, a few food prices had already gotten high enough to give this to the farmers; and a few others, like beef, had gotten way above it. So ceilings were put on those products. But most food prices were too low to have ceilings, since the ceiling couldn't go on until the farmer got his equal dollar.

Then, the trouble began. Most food prices began to rise. But ceilings had been put on all canned and packaged foods, and the poor canners and packers were squeezed between the prices they paid for their materials and the prices they could charge under their ceilings.

To make matters worse, prices were fixed on most other kinds of goods and, with the cost of food going up, no one was contented with what he was getting in wages or prices.

The middle wasn't the fault of OPA. It was the fault of Congress. So finally the President persuaded Congress to take away the farmer's ten per cent bonus, leaving him his equal dollar.

That helped somewhat; and OPA at once froze food prices at their highest during the week of September twenty-eighth. They were all to stay there for two months while OPA worked out what they should finally be.

That is why prices now move in what seems such an irregular way sometimes. They have to be adjusted to keep the law and also to be as fair as possible to the farmer, the canner, the packer, the wholesaler, the retailer. Back of all the changes that seem so freakish, there really is a system; but it's a very complicated business.

Alice handed the pamphlet back to the March Hare with a grin. "You'd better read it yourself," she said. "It's good stuff if it is hard to understand. Perhaps if everyone tried to understand it and know what a big and difficult job it is, there would be less grumbling."

The March Hare glared at her. "I don't grumble; and remember, young lady, I taught you all you know about it."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

In all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branch of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, a Lesson-Sermon will be read Sunday, January 17, on the subject: "Life."

The Golden Text will be: "The gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Romans 6:23). Bible selections will include the following passage from I Timothy 6:17-19: "Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not highminded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy; that they do good, that they be rich in good works, ready to distribute, willing to communicate; laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold on eternal life."

One of the passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, included in the Lesson-Sermon, reads as follows: "Man understands his existence in proportion as he treasures the words of Love and enforces them. Mortals must gravitate toward their affections and aims good spiritual; they must near the broader interpretation of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite in order that sin and mortality may be put off" (p. 265).

This WEEK, This WORLD

by Ted Friend

WHEN VICE PRESIDENT WALLACE, in a recent speech, declared that "The United Nations must back up military disarmament with psychological disarmament—supervision, or at least inspection, of the school systems of Germany and Japan, to undo so far as possible the diabolical work of Hitler and the Japanese war lords in poisoning the minds of the young," he hit the core of the most important problem facing the victor nations when the present holocaust is over.

It is to be expected that no sooner will hostilities cease than an inner circle of Germans, made up of industrialists, large land owners and aristocrats, will again be organized to attempt to (1) evade the responsibilities imposed by the democracies and (2) begin another behind-the-scenes march of truth that Vice President Wallace will have as his purpose the waylaying and conquering of the world in a World War III.

One of the most useful instruments which the Kaiser's politics turned over to their successors in 1918 was a perverted school system which, in spite of the defeat of Germany, has fostered a pan-Germanism upon the people which eventually self-expressed itself in a whole-hog swallowing of the indecencies and frauds of Hitlerism. It is to make certain that there will be no similar march of truth that Vice President Wallace proposes that the Germans and the Japs be required to go to school after this war to learn the facts of civic life.

But equally as important as instilling an understanding of responsibilities of citizenship upon the minds of the Germans is the need to ingrain into the consciousness of Germany's present enemies, the people of Great Britain, Russia, China, the United States, et al, the fact that the Germans and their satellites have proved to the world with endless examples that they are not to be trusted either in word or in deed and that they are capable of every bestial cruelty which man's inhumanity to man can devise if there is but an advantage motive. Never again must the democracies permit themselves, by stealth or pleading, to be softened up and thrown off guard while German schemers set the stage to again ravage their neighbors.

UNQUESTIONABLY the "CORNUST" STATEMENT issued on the recent elections was by far the most Postmaster General James A. Farley in which he interpreted the vote as a protest against New Dealism! What made the Farley statement particularly absurd was that in Farley's opinion the New York, his hand-picked anti-New Deal candidate went down to overwhelming defeat!

There will be a considerable effort on the part of political malcontents to turn the vote results to their own special uses. To political hacks who would like to assign to the "on the line" vote a meaning as a mandate in favor of the "outs." To subversives and isolationists who hope to embarrass the administration in its war effort, and thus set machinery in motion to appease and negotiate with the Japanese and the Germans, it will be looked upon as a repudiation of the national government. To outright Axis agents, operating in the guise of citizens, it will be treated as an invitation to sabotage the sanity of a people who are determined to wipe totalitarianism from the face of the earth.

There was little in the election returns to encourage mischievous elements in the American political scene. The United States saw its usual small complex of war profiteers, demagogues, fence-sitters and copperheads turned into office by backward constituencies. But there was no mandate from the people to turn out the national leadership, there was no landslide against war policies, the President, there was no demonstration in favor of selling the country out to the Japs or Nazis in an inconclusive negotiated peace.

Briefly put, the Republicans took eight Senate seats from the Democrats. Most of these were in nominally Republican states. Of the Republicans elected most had strong records in favor of fighting the war to a victorious conclusion. All but one or two favor conclusively winning the peace that follows.

Even more indicative, and important, were the results in seven gubernatorial elections in which Republicans were elected or re-elected. Of the four governors newly elected three—Warren (Calif.), Kelly (Mich.), and Baldwin (Conn.)—were and are in favor of progressive legislation. The fourth, Dewey (N. Y.), defeated Farley's anti-New Deal candidate by over 600,000 votes!

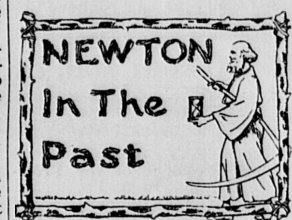

The three Republican governors re-elected were Stassen (Minn.), Bricker (Ohio) and Saltonstall (Mass.). Most of these were progressives who are as unalterably opposed to the Hoover, Fish and Brooks type of old-line Republican reactionaries as the Roosevelts, Wallaces and Hulls are opposed to Democratic Party Tories such as Blaine, Farley, Wheeler and Nye.

There has never been a period in American political history when vested interests did not, at a profit to themselves, endeavor to discredit those who held the nation's and people's best interest at heart. In certain lamentable periods these entities, acting times marked with a dollar sign but always devoted to machine-politics, have pulled the country through the mire of reaction and corruption. Inevitably, in war time, Copperheadism has come forth as an added, if malignant, medium with which to attract the subversive. But the odds are that in spite of what political connivers will do, the liberals of all parties—the Roosevelts, Wallaces, Willkies, Stassens, Winants and others of equal stature—will effect a spiritual coalition to protect the workings and gains of democracy both at home and abroad.

FROM THE HORSE'S MOUTH: General "Ike" Eisenhower has yet to be informed of who killed Darlan... Army leases for hotels to house soldiers are drawn up for three years with a 12 months cancellation clause... Chicken, which heretofore has been ample, will soon be on the short-list... Charles Lindbergh will soon have a new job; and it won't be with Ford. A new theatre of war is expected to be opened soon... The government will press for the planting of every available inch of land the coming growing season. The use of window boxes for the growing of small vegetables will even be urged.

RECOMMENDED: "Social Insurance and Allied Services" by Sir William Beveridge (Macmillan) the complete text of the Beveridge Report which blue-prints the eradication of want in Great Britain. A copy of the book should be available in every library in the land.

Newton Graphic, January 13, 1888
The surveyors of the Boston & Albany railroad company have been engaged the past week in surveying the streets leading to the grade crossings on the main line of the road, probably with a view to computing the expense of doing away with the crossings. It is encouraging to know that the railroad company are doing something in this matter, and possibly to apprehend some action on the part of the present legislature. The grade crossings lend an element of danger to life in Newton, which may be exciting, but is not at all comfortable. There is no knowing who may be the next victim of an accident.

It is interesting for consumers of coal to read that while they are paying $8 or more per ton, on account of the strike in Pennsylvania, the combined coal companies of which the Reading is one, dip into $12,000,000 in net profits the past year.

The Telephone Company have issued another new book to subscribers, of even larger size than the last.

All who have read "Ben Hur" and all who have not, will be anxious to see the 100 stereoscopic pictures on the 19th, in the Congressional Church, Newton Highlands and hear the story graphically told by Cyrus Weekes.

The electric cars have brought the south side of the city and Newtonville into very convenient communication, and the latter is becoming quite a center for trade. It is more convenient than Boston, and for some purposes answers quite as well.

25 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, January 11, 1918
In time of war to stop fighting, to rejoice over a victory is a mistake, sometimes a fatal one. The only use of a victory is to make it a step towards a conclusive one. The only way to win a war is to fight until there is no more need of fighting.

The coal situation in this city seems to be better than the average throughout the state, but it should not be used as an argument or reason for not using the utmost economy in every matter of our daily lives depending on the use of coal. Let us not forget, for instance, that it takes coal to pump even such a cheap commodity as the city water, and every quart allowed to waste at the faucet is just so much loss in our coal supply.

The Bruce Swartz Family wish to take this opportunity to express their appreciation of the Welcome Basket received this week from the members of the Community Welcoming Committee.
I know it would be quite difficult to express our thanks personally to each one, so would you please print a general "Thank You" Notice in your paper for me. I would appreciate it very much if this could be arranged. Thank you again.

POLITICS

WITH COLOR

By P. W. C.

Sportsmanship

Why is it that so many politicians appear to lack sportsmanship from time to time? Within a week there have been two glaring exhibitions of sportsmanship in reverse. One occurred in Washington and one on Beacon Hill. According to P. M., the unique New York daily, the bulk of the Republican side of Congress sat in frigid silence while a leading Democrat was eulogizing the brilliant work of our Commander-in-Chief, President Roosevelt, when the new Congress convened on Jan. 6. To me, that represents partisanship in its lowest form. Incidentally, it was intimated that Republican leaders set the pace. That means, presumably, that Congressman Mann and Attleboro, the G. O. P. leader in the lower branch, had either instructed his cohorts to maintain silence or else had instinctively refrained from doing the courteous thing. Whichever it was, it fills me with disgust.

On Beacon Hill, it chanced to be a Democrat who provided the sour note. Another Democrat had just presented a motion, eulogizing Governor Saltonstall's handling of his broad emergency powers, when this particular Democrat arose and endeavored to halt proceedings by inquiring if this had something to do with the launching of a Presidential boom for our war-time Governor. Sounds to me like rather small stuff. Cannot our Congressmen and our state legislators behave like grown men, especially in time of war?

Claire Booth Luce

The chances are that the general public will watch the behavior of the new Congresswoman from Connecticut, Mrs. Claire Booth Luce, more than that of any other new member. I am not unmindful of the presence in Congress of Will Rogers' son, either. Quite apart from the fact that she is the wife of Henry Luce, distinguished publisher of Time, Life and Fortune, is the further fact that Mrs. Luce is an exceedingly capable and celebrated lady in her own right. As an author, playwright and actress, she is already well known to the American public. Also, she is a lady of considerable beauty and charm. Definitely, she has what it takes. However, she got off to a bad start with the press. It was not entirely her fault. I gathered that she was merely trying to avoid the glare of unnecessary publicity. The ladies of the press, however, were irritated and felt that Mrs. Luce was giving them the brush-off. It will be interesting to note what happens from now on.

Cocacnut Grove Fire

I still feel that those who fear an eventual whitewash of the terrible Cocacnut Grove holocaust are worrying themselves needlessly. My guess is that the outpouring of editorial and the outpouring of defense attorneys, if he appears to be moving a bit slowly and cautiously at times, let us remember that this is a tremendously important case and that the utmost care and the keenest possible judgment must be exercised every single day. Furthermore, just because some of the Boston papers have discontinued writing frequent editorials on the subject, do not jump to the conclusion that they have lost interest. On the other hand, I am frank to admit that I have read one or two rather sour columns by commentators. The present appears to be that all the big-shots are in the clear and that the general public should now concentrate its attention on some of the less prominent public servants. The buck is being rapidly passed, when possible, and numerous hedges are being dragged across the trail. However, the cold, hard facts still remain that nearly 500 innocent lives were snuffed out in less time than it takes me to record the fact. There was gross negligence, or worse, in many places. THE TRAGEDY COULD HAVE BEEN PREVENTED. Remember that. You can be sure that the families, relatives and close friends of those who perished will insist that justice be done before this case is settled. Finally, just remember that the man in charge of this gruesome case is the same man who put Dan Coakley out of business. If Bob Bushnell was not afraid of Coakley, you may be certain that he will not cringe before the Cocacnut Grove crowd.

Board of Aldermen

It has been a long time since we have witnessed such rapid changes in the personnel of our Board of Aldermen. Most of the changes have been due to the war. Numerous Aldermen have either entered the armed forces or have left their business or profession "for the duration" in order to undertake some important phase of war work. Good luck to them all. Let's hope that they will all come back to us and take up where they left off.
The latest resignation is that of Alderman Maxwell P. Gaddis of Ward 3. He has been an outstanding public servant for a good many years and had only recently been given the most important assignment on the Board, Chairman of the Finance Committee, a post for which he was eminently qualified. However, he has been carrying a very heavy load for some time now, as many of us have known, and the human frame can stand just so much and no more. It takes a wise man to know when the interests of all concerned demand a temporary curtailment of effort. We all hope that a brief respite from public service will prove so beneficial that Alderman Gaddis will return to his old post.

Recent Events

Auburndale Woman's Club

The Auburndale Woman's Club held their regular meeting at the Club House on Tuesday, Jan. 12. The president, Mrs. Edlyn V. Lynn, presided at the business meeting, during which Mrs. Clarence Mease of the Community Chest, told of Washington—The best political minds here seem to think that 1943 will be a year of bitter political feuds. Conservative Southern Democrats are out to recapture their party from the New Dealers while dyed-in-the-wool Republicans swear they'll endorse anybody but Wendell L. Willkie.

Neither side takes into consideration the President's ability to regain popular approval as he did in 1940 when the opposition seemed insurmountable, or Willkie's immense popularity following. Boiled down to bare facts it simply means that feuding between conservatives and progressives of both parties will continue as heretofore, with no decision rendered until '44.

According to a report in the Amsterdam daily Algemeen Handelsblad, confiscation of all church bells in Holland was ordered by Reich Commissioner Seyss-Inquart on November 27. The requisitioning was forecast in a speech he delivered at Arnhem on October 11 in which he declared that the bells would be melted down for the German war industry. Seeking to justify the step, he said: "This is a perfectly natural measure. You know that it happened a thousand years ago, too. In war time, church bells were used to protect the country. Of course, we take all copper and tin. When anyone wonders how I can do this, I answer: 'I am surprised that you didn't offer this copper voluntarily to the German soldiers in order to keep Bolshevism from your frontiers.'"
A German communique on the subject stated that "in every municipality one small bell will be left to sound air-raid alerts."

Working mothers got recognition from the Government last week in the form of three grants to take care of their children while they are on the job. The Children's Bureau approved plans for child care services in New Jersey and Missouri, and the U. S. Office of Education recommended money for North Carolina. As a result the needs more than ever for the men in service.

The speaker of the afternoon failed to reach the club house, and a very impromptu community sing was held, conducted by Mrs. Maurice Beardsley with Mrs. Raymond E. Perkins at the piano.
Refreshments were served in the Lounge with Mrs. George A. Wilson and Mrs. Raymond E. Perkins presiding at the tea table.

Auburndale Woman's Club
A very pleasant afternoon was spent Monday, January 11, at the home of Mrs. George A. Wilson, Jr., on Hancock st., Auburndale.
Mrs. Thomas A. McDermott, chairman of the Music Committee of the Club opened the meeting and read a paper on the origin of the organ. Mrs. Wilson had in her home an organ built in 1887, with chimneys and various stops. Later in the afternoon the ladies were much interested to see who could play the loudest and longest on the organ; a social hour followed. Mrs. Franklin Bartlett presided at the tea table and she was assisted in serving by Mrs. William W. Edson, Mrs. Walter White, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Lawrence.

NEW GROUP OF DIETITIAN AIDES TO BE TRAINED AT NEWTON HOSPITAL

A group of dietitian aides will start training at the Newton Hospital on January 18, it was announced by Mrs. H. W. Fitts, chairman of that Corps for the Newton Red Cross. These volunteers will help in the preparation and serving of food both to the patients and to the hospital staff. They are most necessary at this time when so many of the hospital personnel have left to enter other fields. However, in spite of the labor shortage, the hospital must continue to maintain adequate diet for the patients, and serve food and nourishment attractively.

This course of training is open to anyone holding a nutrition certificate. The group will meet twice a week at the Newton Hospital, for a three-week period, and will be trained in both the theory and practice of preparation and serving food for the patients. After completing the course, the volunteers will be expected to give a minimum of 150 hours a year at the hospital. However, the present group of dietitian aides are giving much more time than that.

In commenting on the need for the dietitian aides, Mr. Gerhard Hartman, Director of the Newton Hospital, says, "Unlike industrial workers, who receive recognition for their war efforts by having 'E' pennants awarded their plant, hospital workers must continue to render more service and make their contribution to the war effort without receiving the glamour-ous acclaim and recognition of the public. We need volunteers now, and will need more volunteers until we win our victory."

Applicants for the January 18 group may enroll at the Chapter House, 21 Foster st., Newtonville, Tuesday through Friday, from 1 to 4 in the afternoon.

Luncheons are served from 12 to 2 and dinners from 5:30 to 8.

240 Families Aided By Catholic Welfare Committee Last Year

2,022 Visits Made To Homes Of Those In Distress—$15,107 Expended For Relief of Poor

The Newton Catholic Welfare Committee assisted 240 families, totalling 1172 persons during the year 1942, according to the report of Financial Secretary John J. Cahill, presented at the annual meeting of that organization held Sunday, Jan. 10, in the auditorium of Our Lady's High School. President M. John Barry presided.

Mr. Cahill mentioned that the organization comprises five Conferences of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul at Nonantum, Newton, Newton Centre, Upper Falls and Waban; also St. Bernard's Aid Society in West Newton; the members of which comprising over 80 volunteers made 2022 visits to the homes of those in distress. In addition to sympathetic advice and guidance, the Catholic Welfare Committee expended through the Conferences, $15,107 for the relief of the poor.

Col. William D. Cleary, Commandant of the National Chaplains School at Harvard University, spoke of the intensive training course, including physical conditioning which the chaplains receive at the school; of the arrangements for the mental, physical and spiritual well-being of the men in the armed services. He spoke in a reassuring way of those who have sons, husbands, fathers, brothers or sweethearts in the military forces, by disabusing their minds of any thought of the service constituting any danger to their morals. He said that their standards of behavior are higher than in civilian life, that their behavior is good and that there need be no worry about morale if there is no problems of morals.

Mrs. W. V. M. Fawcett, Commissioner of Newton Girl Scouts, spoke of work and history of scouting in Newton.

Rev. John A. Sheridan, Executive Secretary, delivered the following thoughtful and inspirational address, "The Present and Future Place of the Private Agency in Social Welfare":

"We are living in a particularly disturbed era when practically overnight governments are changing; the maps of whole continents are shuffled around, much as one would deal a pack of cards; tolerance and patience are rampant. With such a picture as we faced when we sit down to consider the private agency, its present, its future.

"In these days of social and economic confusion, new forms of government, and changing political techniques, we hear a great deal about democracy. The complete suppression or absorption of the private by the public social welfare is one of the manifestations of totalitarianism. Democracy has no substance or reality unless, in the field of service to its members, it is free to experiment to individualize, and to give voluntarily. This same principle holds in matters of education, religion, and other fields vital to human service.

"For my own orientation, I have reviewed the indices of various national and regional conferences of social work over the period of the last fifteen years. This is what I found. Much emphasis has been placed upon the public agency and its future, its place in the hierarchy of social welfare. One gets the feeling that the private agency has been taken for granted, accepted as an established institution, an integral part of the services offered to those in trouble. In the last year and a half there seems to be a change. As the public agency has been able to take over the quantitative and mass job, some bewilderment has been evidenced in the private agency field. Perhaps we should pause a moment and see what has happened. Any private social agency which is going concern possesses great advantages. It has acceptance, and it has prestige—it is a business concern. It has its roots in a number of related community services and cannot discontinue its work without disorganizing the whole. Many of these agencies have large resources not only in money and property, but in such intangibles as records, procedures, and its very organization. Probably more important than these is that powerful factor, in social forces—tradition.

"Prestige, organization and tradition are not sufficient to guarantee permanency to any social agency. It must have these, but it must also meet a socially recognized and vital need. No social human institution can exist in a world of change unless it is capable of and actually does go through a continuous process of self-renewal. It is imperative that it alter its emphasis, it keep pace with shifts in its clientele, its financial constituency, and community thinking. The old established social agency may continue to do business on the same corner, but it cannot keep on doing the same old business in the same old way. A strong point in the continuance of the private agency is its flexibility. In a democracy a private agency can and does undertake many functions which are difficult for a public agency to attempt, or at least to do well.

"What has happened to the private agency in our so-called new alignments? A considerable reduction of the private agency's responsibility for material relief has precipitated a tendency in both family and children's agencies to approximate the psychiatric agency. The reaction in child dependency largely due to the increased acceptance of the public agency, coupled with the increased sensitivity to psychiatric values, on the part of the referring sources, has caused children's institutions to effect an orientation more with personality and behavior problems. Those agencies concerned with delinquents have shifted their emphasis to the preventive side of the job.

"Too little time has been given to think through the new emphasis to effect an orientation through clear thinking, careful planning and constant experimentation. The need for change due to shift in responsibilities has become so compelling that new social work territory is appropriated frequently by agencies for justification of their own continuity and not through a process of integrating new procedures with established functions. New functions unrelated to the structure of the agency, are attempted. Agency rivalry, subdued but nevertheless present, ensues; bewildered staffs are forced to assimilate practically overnight new procedures and new skills.

"The role of the private agency, in the light of the tremendous increase in public agency responsibility, calls for experimentation and discovery now more than ever before. For this, flexibility and emphasis are needed. The profession of social work, and particularly case work, is young; skills have hardly been acquired. They will not develop for many years to come in the public agency; the private agency, therefore, has the responsibility.

family, the children of participants in a labor dispute and the hundreds of unfortunates who cannot fit into categories, or who require services and assistance in excess of the resources and regulations of the public agencies? We have today an increasing number of individuals who need 'Special' or 'Extra' services. They require more and different types of service or aid than is available from public sources.

"It is the task of the private agency to make its own place in the hierarchy of social welfare and then fit into the total community set-up. The relationship between public and private social work should be predicated upon the current social trends; they can be epitomized under one term, 'acceptance.' The public agency ceases to regard the private agencies as the vestigial remnant of a vanishing scheme of social organization. It accepts the private agency as an integral link in the democratic process and as an enduring member of the social fabric. It recognizes the peculiar strengths of the non-governmental agencies, and makes use of them—not as tails to its own organizational kite, but as a valued and indispensable community resource. The private agency worker no longer tries to stake out exclusive claims to this or that function or type of service. He knows that it may, sooner or later, be pre-empted by the public agency, but this should not, in the least, bother him. There is always a new job waiting to be tackled—a new territory to be opened up. In the service of humanity, there is no last frontier."

Newton women interested in learning about "Home Hospitality" are cordially invited to hear Mr. W. Duncan Russell, Executive Director of U. S. O.—Greater Boston Soldiers' and Sailors' Committee, speak on "Community Recreational Program in War Time," Jan. 27, at the open meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Newton Y. M. C. A. which will be held in the Auditorium, 276 Church st., Newton, at 2 o'clock.

Everybody's War," the campaign movie which dramatically epitomizes the home front and wartime programs that subscriptions to the United War Fund will support, has been shown at all meetings of workers and in the schools. The showings of the sound film, which stress that it is everybody's job to contribute to the campaign both to win the war and to win the peace, were arranged by the Educational Division, of which Mrs. Mortimer M. Prescott is chairman.

United War Fund Sunday will be observed January 17 in all the churches of Newton and the forty-eight other cities and towns of Greater Boston. Brooks Potter, of Newton Centre, chairman of the Metropolitan Division, is one of several laymen who will make an appeal from the pulpit. He will be heard at St. Paul's Cathedral, in Boston.

The Newton campaign will be publicly launched at the opening dinner of all divisions and workers next Monday evening (January 18) at the Newton High School.

Dr. James L. McConaughy, president of Wesleyan University, and Mr. Cabot will be the speakers. Mr. Leonard will preside at the Newton campaign's first public function in the 1943 appeal.

Dr. McConaughy, who will bring a stirring United Nations message to the Newton campaign workers, is on leave of absence from his university post to serve as president of United China Relief. Before becoming president of Wesleyan, he held professorships at Bowdoin and Dartmouth.

Following the program, arranged by Mrs. William V. M. Fawcett, campaign vice chairman and chairman of the Events Committee, a pageant, directed by C. Hassler Capron, will dramatize the home front and wartime services for which the campaign is being conducted.

Elit Men's Club

Absenteeism received sharp rebuke at the January meeting of the Elit Men's Club, held at the club rooms Monday, January 11, in a most interesting address by Commissioner Lyman, of the Mass. Dept. of Correction. Pardonable under the circumstances, because of the recent let-up of extreme cold weather, which made homes habitable on more absenteeism, in this case carried with it its own penalty, upon those who failed to hear the address by a most noteworthy public official, whose service to the Commonwealth is highly meritorious.

Illustrating his remarks with particular cases, Commr. Lyman covered the three institutions which are his chief charges: Charlestown, Norfolk and Sherborn. A native of Waltham, Mass., graduate of Noble & Greenough and Harvard, Commissioner Lyman had for many years directed the Norfolk House Settlement, Eliot Square, Roxbury. Appointed to head the Department of Correction in 1934, repeated appointments by succeeding governors have retained him in the office continually since that time.

Commissioner Lyman served in the United States Navy during World War I, advancing from seaman 1st class to lieutenant jg, in the latter capacity having charge of a submarine on active service. An only son is now serving aboard a destroyer on Atlantic patrol.

From his deep interest in social welfare of boys and men, the commissioner has drawn his qualifications that fit him to take charge of the delinquency of the Commonwealth, and an austerity of character enables him fully to protect the Commonwealth. He serves. Deserved praise was given by him to the population of Charlestown Prison in respect to their record of donations to the Red Cross blood bank, 75 per cent of them being donors.

Under present conditions there is a decrease of male inmates in institutions; an increase of women, particularly the younger. Reasons given were that men find broader opportunities; while young women have been less well trained for their wider possibilities, and had insufficient supervision. Parents at work in war industries and away from the home are a contributing cause for the younger persons who become committable. Also the parent who leaves his home unguarded for the selfish satisfaction of serving in the armed forces, was considered as a factor.

Alcoholism among the highly intelligent, whose IQ betters that of the average of Newton, for instance, was commented upon, for its effect in depriving society of the effective work of many superior individuals of a class highly trained and experienced. An opinion adverse to national prohibition was followed by condemnation of availability of beverages for consumption even in moderation, because of their content and effect upon the human constitution. Frankness and moderation in home training were described as perhaps the best preparation in the young for the conditions under which they will expect to serve the community in which they live. The Commissioner was appreciatively thanked by the audience for his excellent address.

A brief business session preceded the address, and refreshments served at the buffet followed.

Newton Unit Launches United War Fund Drive

1600 Volunteer Workers Attended Opening Dinner Last Monday Night; Hear Splendid Speaking Program

With almost 1600 of the more than 2500 volunteer workers in attendance, the Newton organization of the Greater Boston United War Fund launched its campaign of solicitation at the opening dinner at Newton High School last Monday night. Of the United War Fund's $7,800,000 goal, Newton has a quota of $315,000 to be raised by February 9.

Emphasizing the local, national and international aspects of the

THOMAS E. SHIRLEY
Chairman of the Newton Residential Division of the Greater Boston United War Fund, whose campaign co-workers have contributed $16,230 to the 1943 appeal, besides conducting solicitation in all the villages of the city.

1943 appeal, the speakers were Dr. James L. McConaughy, president of Wesleyan University, on leave to serve as president of United China Relief of Charles C. Cabot, general chairman of the Greater Boston United War Fund, and Mayor Paul M. Goddard. Neil Leonard, Newton campaign chairman, presided at the dinner.

The workers of the Residential Division practised as well as preached the campaign slogan—"Give enough, soon enough!"—Thomas E. Shirley, chairman of that solicitation unit, pointed out in announcing that his associates had already subscribed $16,230. In recognition of their services before the public opening of the appeal, he presented two plaques bearing the campaign symbol—the traditional red feather encircled by twelve blue stars.

As the chairman of the village organization having the highest percentage of attendance at pre-campaign meetings, Benjamin Louis war awarded one plaque. The other was given to Joseph Spelman, chairman of the Newton Highlands organization, whose workers led all village units in percentage of increase in contributions over last year.

In the worker-contribution contest of the Residential Division, the village standings and percentages of increase above 1942 are: Newton Highlands, 150%; Newton Lower Falls, 137%; Chestnut Hill, 112%; Waban, 105%; Auburndale, 102%; Waban Hill and Newton, both 100%.

Dr. McConaughy characterized the Greater Boston United War Fund as "neighborliness, 1943 style." "The cave man thought only of himself," he declared. "Civilized man soon learned that his next-door neighbor was also his concern. A little while ago we organized to help all the neighbors in our city. Next the circle extended to the larger community. Today the world is one neighborhood. What our allies do, ten thousand miles away, affects us, our soldier and sailor sons. When we send medical supplies to Russia, or give aid to China, we are treating them as neighbors to whom we stretch a helping hand. This United War Fund extends the circle of our neighbors."

The 1943 Greater Boston United War Fund "spreads the spirit of community to an international horizon," Mr. Cabot emphasized. He urged the Newton campaigners to "forget the dollar sign" and interpret the $7,800,000 goal in terms of human service. He stated that the real goal of the campaign is "to keep up the health, spirit and character of our people at home,"

All-Out Program to Help War Effort

Directors of "Y" Meet and Formulate Activities

An all out program to help the war effort in our community, in addition to the regular services offered at all times, was outlined at the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Newton Y.M.C.A., last week by Clarence R. Mease, General Secretary of the "Y". After a full discussion by the Board of Directors, under the leadership of Frederick Sayford Bacon, president, the program was unanimously adopted.

Outstanding in the program is the continuance of the policy of offering recreational and health facilities without charge to all service men. Other features include the emergency housing of units of our armed forces, making available as much as possible our facilities to local defense organizations such as the Red Cross, A. R. P., etc., and active co-operation with local organizations serving the service men in this area.

In addition, the Board agreed to promote a more vigorous health and recreational program for older men in the community. Morning health and recreation programs for defense workers are also being planned. The Board took under advisement the possibility of making available at certain hours the use of the Y.M.C.A. facilities for women and girls. The senior high school boys were granted full use of the physical department privileges at all times. This was done so that boys who are taking extra defense classes can have the use of the "Y" at periods when they are not busy.

Secretary Mease pointed out the necessity for additional volunteers to help in the program. He indicated a growing interest in the boys' department activities. The report for the year showed an increased use of our "Y" facilities in all departments, and the Directors are planning for an even more active year in 1943.

Interpreting the campaign slogan—"Give enough, soon enough!" Mr. Cabot declared: "We on the home front must do our full part. We must dig down deep into our pockets for this great cause for home, country and our allies. We must dig as deeply as a bullet digs into a soldier!"

"Our boys gone by the thousands and tens of thousands to the far corners of the earth," Mayor Goddard declared, quoting his recent proclamation. "They face privation and sacrifice and stand ready and eager to give their lives if need be to hold the enemy far from our peaceful home that we shall not experience face to face the awful horrors of war."

Affectionately addressing his campaign associates as "my gang," Mr. Leonard told them that they were privileged to perform a most worthy and vital community and patriotic service. "There is no more important job to do this year," he stressed. Newton people, always generous in the past, he said, can be counted on to respond in even greater measure than ever before to meet the city's full share.

President of American Hospital Association To Be Speaker

Will Address Annual Meeting of The Newton Hospital To Be Held Next Tuesday Evening

The president of the Newton Hospital, Mr. Frank L. Richardson, has announced that Mr. James A. Hamilton, president of the American Hospital Association, will be the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees. The meeting will be held at the Newton Hospital on Tuesday, January 26, 1943, at 6:30 p. m. in the Staff Dining Room. Members of the Medical Staff, Bequest Council and Administrative Staff, as well as the Board of Trustees, will attend.

President Hamilton, internationally known as a leader in the hospital field and conceded to be one of its most forceful representatives, will speak on "The Future of the Hospital."

Mr. Hamilton has remarked, "We are experiencing a definite concentration or centralization of medical care in an institution known as the hospital. This tendency has been growing for many years. In all probability the continuance of this trend with an accentuated tempo is a reliable forecast. More and more are the public receiving their care as patients in the hospital. More and more are the hospital choosing to depend upon the hospital—its personnel, facilities, and equipment—to carry forth their work of medical care. Needless to reiterate as a result of this trend, the functions, responsibilities and problems of operating a hospital have become a more complex as compared with twenty, ten, or even five years ago."

"With this concentration, the magnitude of the hospital, as an educational institution, has been considerably augmented. As a consequence of this trend, the hospital is extending its activities further and further into preventive medicine. Likewise there is an insistence to a greater degree upon intensive follow-up after the patient leaves the hospital. Of course, the community continues to depend upon hospitals to develop educationally, a supply of technically trained people such as nurses, dietitians, medical social workers, and laboratory technicians. Hospitals have become gradually and significantly a more educational force in the modern community."

"Along with this development has come a more sagacious and poignant observation of the accomplishments. The patients, for example, who not so many years ago, seemed reluctant to go to a hospital, are now desirous of admission. Instructed through more numerous contacts and through the activities of National Hospital Day and what-not publicity, sponsored by hospitals and other organizations, we find that the patients are becoming intelligent about hospital care and a little more critical of the care offered to them. Where they may have accepted sub-standard results a few years ago, now they are beginning to question whether your hospital or my hospital is furnishing them proper and adequate care. Moreover, answers of tradition and trite generalities are not sufficient to satisfy their pertinent questions. Likewise, the doctors are becoming more concerned about good hospital administration. Where previously many of them expected not much more than a business manager, that is, someone to look after the so-called hospital."

Fine Response To Salvation Army Drive Here

Enthusied by their experience at the first 1943 session of The Salvation Army Public Relation Department Institute, held in Boston, on Saturday, four official collectors, Leonard H. Cady, Bernard Stone, Thomas Woodruff and John H. Roberts, started the windup work of the Newton appeal, early Monday morning. They were determined to find scores of new donors, folks who have not aided the organization that has as its aim aiding the needy and teaching honest peace and the story of Christianity. In addition a last check will be made on former donors, who have not made their donations.

The institute, conducted by William A. Nicol, in charge of the public relations and campaign activities of The Salvation Army, is to train men in the many branches of services covered by the public relations work. It will be held for two weeks on Saturday mornings.

In speaking of the Newton campaign, with State Representative Douglass B. Francis as chairman of the sponsoring group and William M. Cahill, an official of the Newton Trust Company, at Newton Center, as campaign treasurer, Colonel Richard F. Stretton, who heads the Army's work in the six New England states, said:

"We are delighted with the response already made in the annual appeal in Newton. Our people have for years relied on the generous men and women of Newton. Their donations with those from other Greater Boston and Metropolitan communities give us the money that is needed to carry on the work that we have so often asked people to inspect. Many have. Many marvel at the fine program we have for the men of Uncle Sam's fighting forces. This is centered in Bullfinch st., Boston, where The Salvation Army has the Red Shield Service Men's Club and the Argonne Lodge, in which men get modern sleeping accommodations. From this club we go through cold weather, storm, by mobile canteen to aid hundreds assigned to less hospitable posts. We serve them coffee and doughnuts."

REPORTS THEFT OF GAS RATION BOOK

Mrs. Anthony D'Angelo of 164 Linwood ave., Newtonville, reported to the Newton Police last Thursday that a gasoline ration book had been stolen from her automobile while it was in the garage at the rear of her home.

Rationing Board Must Deduct 25 Per Cent of Remaining Coupons From All Coupon Books Other Than Residential

All local consumers who obtained fuel oil ration coupons before January 15th for heat or hot water or both, where more than 30 per cent of the floor area is used for non-residential purposes, such as stores, barber shops, beauty shops, garages, etc., are warned that they must bring their fuel oil coupons to the local Board this week to have 25% of their remaining coupons tailored or deducted under a new ruling issued last week by OPA headquarters. This reduction in fuel oil for non-residential users was ordered to conserve oil for the use of private homes. Failure of non-residential users to submit their coupons to the local Rationing Board will mean the cancellation of all outstanding fuel oil coupons held by such offenders by the Board.

With the fuel oil situation in the East still facing a critical period, the local War Price and Rationing Board this week again warned and urged all local users of fuel oil that they must make every effort to conserve and economize in the use of such fuel oil in order to make their present supply of fuel oil coupons carry them through the winter months.

The Chairman stated that many local users of fuel oil are wholeheartedly co-operating to conserve their fuel oil and endeavoring to make their original supply of coupons carry through the winter. Others, apparently, are oblivious to the critical situation which faces the East coast and regardless of repeated warnings are still maintaining home temperatures of previous years and using up their supply of fuel oil coupons and then demanding from the local Board additional coupons when their supply of coupons is exhausted, to carry them through to the next coupon heating period.

It was further pointed out to all that the local Board is powerless to issue additional coupons under existing government regulations, and that even if additional coupons could be issued unless the strictest economy is exercised by all, with the present critical fuel oil shortage in this area, all fuel oil users will be faced with the prospect of having coupons but without the prospect of being able to purchase oil for the coupons they have on hand.

Louis A. Myers Named To Board of Aldermen

Succeeds Maxwell P. Gaddis, Who Recently Resigned; Alderman Rawson Presents His Resignation to Board

At a meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday evening, Louis A. Myers of 63 Orchard ave., West Newton, was unanimously elected alderman-at-large from Ward 3 to fill the vacancy resulting from the resignation of Maxwell P. Gaddis. Myers was immediately sworn in by City Clerk Frank M. Grant and assigned to his seat. He was appointed a member of the Public Works Committee by President Charles B. Floyd.

Alderman Myers, who was born in Fort Byron, New York, has been employed for 34 years by the Standard Oil Company. He came to Boston 13 years ago as sales manager of that company and since then has resided in Newton. He is married and has two sons, both serving in the armed forces.

George E. Rawson, Alderman-at-large from Ward 7, now serving as State Representative from the Fourth Middlesex District, presented his resignation from the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. President Floyd announced that action on the resignation will be taken at the next meeting, February 1. A date will be set for the election of a successor to Mr. Rawson.

The board voted to amend the traffic regulations to require automobiles to come to a stop on Webster st. at West Newton, before entering Elm st. in either direction.

An offer from James W. Ingraham to pay $500 for a lot of city-owned land adjacent to 275 Cypress st., Newton Centre, was accepted by the Board.

The sum of $641.65 was appropriated for payment of workmen's compensation to city employees injured at work in 1942.

A hearing was held on the application of the Nonantum Used Parts Company for a second-hand motor vehicle license, Class 3, at 73-77 West st., Ward 2. William Shriberg applied for a junk license at the same address.

Auctioneer licenses were renewed for Peter M. Conley, 217 Hunnewell terrace, Ward 7; Samuel W. Macey, 127 Cotton st., Ward 7 and Maxwell H. Robson, 82 Carver st., Ward 5.

Announces County Surplus $304,155

Charles P. Howard, Treasurer of Middlesex County, and Nathaniel I. Bowditch, Charles C. Warren and Archibald R. Giroux, County Commissioners, have announced that at the end of the fiscal year 1942 there was unobligated cash in the treasury of Middlesex County in the sum of $304,155.41. This balance is the largest in many years. It would be known in private business as a surplus.

This balance is the result of careful management by all departments of Middlesex County. It is especially interesting because Middlesex County in 1942 had the lowest county tax in fourteen years, that is since 1928.

Have You Reviewed Your Will?

Once made, your Will should not be regarded as a permanent document, good for all time. The many uncertainties resulting from the present emergency, the effects of the Revenue Act of 1942, suggest only two reasons why review of the provisions of your Will is especially timely.

She has been an instructor and demonstrator at the Manchester Institute of Arts and Sciences. For the past 8 years, she has been working with doctors in developing balanced meals. These critical times with meat and other food shortages place a heavy responsibility on the home maker in planning meals for the family, and those who attend Mrs. Rifer's lecture will get many hints which will be helpful in answering the question "What Shall We Eat?"

Over 100 Attend Hospital Aid Annual Meeting

Over a hundred directors and members of the Newton Hospital Aid Association attended the annual meeting held in the nurses home of the hospital on Tuesday morning, Jan. 12. Mrs. Charles B. Floyd presided at the business meeting and Mrs. Dana Dutch was hostess in charge of the refreshments served at noon.

The annual reports of the officers and the manager of the Hospital Aid Benefit Shop, were presented, followed by instructive reports for the year by Mr. Gerhard Hartman, superintendent of the Newton Hospital, and Miss Isabel McVicker, newly appointed director of the school of nursing. Mr. Hartman stressed the need for continued community interest in the hospital which is running to capacity and nursing an increasing number of Newton and Wellesley residents. The institution is now taxed greatly by war conditions involving the loss of staff members to the armed forces. Mr. Hartman reported the introduction of a personnel office which has proven very helpful and he mentioned the loyalty to the hospital of employees in all departments as well as among volunteer workers.

Miss McVicker spoke briefly of the greatly increased size of the school of nursing and the invaluable assistance of the Red Cross trained workers.

Mrs. Hugh Robinson of Lung Chow, China, was the principal speaker and she gave most interesting stories of her experiences in the Orient. Her husband was in charge of a hospital in China which was one of the first to be damaged by bombing.

Mrs. Edwin Pride, chairman of the nominating presented the slate of officers for 1943 as follows: President, Mrs. Charles B. Floyd; vice-presidents, Mrs. Theodor B. Walker, Mrs. E. S. Cushman, Mrs. E. W. Price, Mrs. F. Marsena Butts, Mrs. Oliver Lathrop, Mrs. Henry F. F. A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Everyone is striving to keep our proudly won "Minute Man Flag" flying high. 250 people invested in War Savings on Thursday to the amount of $485.80. Home rooms that have already reached their 90 per cent quota for next month are: 24-20, both 7th grade rooms.

Assembly on Friday morning was greatly enjoyed by everyone. Moving pictures are always popular and this one in technicolor with the title "Steel Wings" was greeted with special enthusiasm as it gave such a vivid description of the life and training of an army air corps cadet at various fields over the country.

We are looking forward to the next presentation of the 9th grade drama elective group. The play is titled "Elmer and the Love Bug," and is under the direction of Patty Burt.

Scarcely a week goes by without news of, or, better still, visits from former Day pupils who are on our Honor Roll of those in the armed forces. This week brought news that Fairfield Carr was a major with the forces in Africa. Lieutenant Francis Halfrey stationed at Riverside, California, and Norman Ross, now an ensign, were recent visitors.

YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX

PERSONAL EXEMPTION
Every individual is allowed a credit against his net income which varies with his domestic status, that is, whether he is (a) a single person (b) a married person living with husband or wife, or (c) a head of family. This credit is known as personal exemption, and is shown on line 21 of the return Form 1040. The amount of the personal exemption also varies depending upon the period during which the taxpayer occupied the particular exemption status.

The personal exemption for a single person is $500 for the year; for a married person living with husband or wife, $1200; and for a "head of family," $1200. (Personal exemption as head of a family has no effect on liability to file a return.) For Federal income tax purposes, widows, widowers, divorcees, and married persons separated by mutual consent, as well as persons who have never been married, are classed as single persons.

A head of family is defined as "an individual who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for those dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation." A single person, or a married person not living with husband or wife, may, therefore, enjoy a head of family exemption under certain conditions.

Taxpayers using a Simplified Return (which is permitted if the gross income for the year is $3000 or less and derived solely from earnings from employment and/or from dividends, interest and annuities) obtain personal exemption based on their status

Don't cripple her chances for a better tomorrow

There will always be casualties on the home front.

Infantile paralysis... Rickets... Tuberculosis... Spinal meningitis... With these deadly enemies there is never an armistice... They always stand ready to cripple and kill.

But you can halt their deadly march.

You can help to give stricken thousands a fighting chance if you give enough soon enough to the United War Fund.

Those dollars maintain youth and welfare agencies, keep clinics open, hospitals running, enable visiting nurses to continue their good work.

They serve on the war front, too. United Nations Relief, War Prisoners Aid, the USO and other vital agencies need your help to carry on.

So don't close your heart.

Give enough... soon enough!

Letters To The Editor

East Brewster, Mass., January 16, 1943.
Editor, Newton Graphic:
Saturday morning here brings my Newton Graphic and a fine chance to see how some of my good friends are getting on. The outstanding item this week is the report on Catholic Welfare for last year. The address by Rev. John A. Sheridan should be enjoyed by any one interested in educational and welfare work. The society is further fortunate in having an officer like John Cahill to assist them—two fine Christian gentlemen of real Newton standard.

I am surprised at the number of teachers resigning from the Newton schools. Some day I must write a few lines on "How to Have the Time of Your Life When Retired." As secretary of the Men's Club, Director of Salvage and in charge of the Night Division of the Report Center, besides looking out for some real estate, I am enjoying life to the full.

Each time I send you a letter, I get some response from old friends of former years and it's delightful, down in the country, to get mail.

I should very much like to hear from former pupils or from some of those retired teachers who come from Stearns District Teachers.

Cordially yours,
K. WINSLOW.

DEMOCRACY WILL WORK IF YOU DO!

This democracy did work when the people in it were willing to sweat and fight for it; when they staked their lives and homes for it. In those days people took big risks for their country. Each new investment in time and energy—each vision for a new town or city or industry was a gamble. Every personal fight against discouragement and failure, each battle against hostile Indians or sickness or starvation. Each new move west was a gamble.

The people who took those chances did not know whether democracy would work. They only knew it had to, even if it meant changing some personal points of view and character traits to cooperate with the next fellow. They knew that the building of a democratic nation worked if you built the things you wanted for the nation into your home and community.

Men had a fighting faith in those days. They had a vision which they prayed and worked for. They didn't just hope someone would build a new blockade against the enemy, or someone would provide a new school for their children, or a new sewer system for their town. They worked together and stuck together for the sake of all. Honesty, courage and character were the qualifications that meant success in those days. They are these same characteristics that mean national survival for American democracy today.

"Teamwork," said Knute Rockne, "is a combination of self-sacrifice, brains and sweat." It means working together for America. Honest teamwork between government and business, labor and management, union and union, republicans and democrats, city and farm.

A united people will build this new America. A nation free from fear, hate and greed. A nation that holds the secret of the new world. Democracy will work if you do!

WE WANT YOUR OPINION

For over seventy years, this newspaper has come to your home weekly. During these many years it has sought to render to you, and Newton, a community service. It intends to continue to do so in the future.

For that reason, in order to strive to discover what you believe would improve the attractiveness and desirability of The Graphic, we are asking you to write us, not for publication, unless you so state, but for our guidance, what you feel would, or could, make The Graphic better than it is. No, we do not mind constructive criticism. Such criticism very often helps to improve something that has been overlooked. Send us your thoughts, your opinions, so that we may give more of what you desire.

Now let us say to all clubs, no matter what their activities and interests may be, we want your club news weekly. We realize that in the Newtons there are many clubs which the general public of Newton knows little about, solely because they are not sending in to The Graphic notes of their undertakings. We might also add that The Graphic would welcome weekly, church calendars and notes on church affairs. These are but two matters which we, of The Graphic, wish to see improved.

If you, in reading this, will sit down and pen your thoughts to us, we will attempt to follow your suggestions. More than that, we will appreciate your response and can assure you that, as always, The Newton Graphic leads the way.

While fighting on the seven seas, let's fight for the seven C's:

- 1—Country before self
- 2—Conservation of resources
- 3—Caring for the other fellow
- 4—Constructive criticism only
- 5—Coolness in emergency
- 6—Confidence in our leaders
- 7—Cooperation everywhere

This WEEK. This WORLD

WESTBROOK PEGLER is the highly paid white-haired boy of the anti-Laborites. Pegler, who has come out in favor of lynching in his day, "lays on" with a vengeance whenever organized labor raises its head. His badgering technique, which by implication smears the good with the bad, is currently probably as useful a contribution to the dividing of the country as ever was Coughlin's, or Pelley's or Deatherage's.

Pegler is not only against labor, he is also against all those who favor labor. He is against the New Deal, against the Wagner Act, against the progressive element in the Democratic Party, and even against Mrs. Roosevelt! Pegler, who sports a scowling Prussian-like picture of himself in his syndicated column, might make a more effective appeal to decent liberal circles if, from time to time, he tempered his broad smudges on labor's escutcheon by passing out a laurel leaf or two to labor's worthy practitioners, of which there are legion. And his stature as a journalist might rise in the eyes of his fellow newspapermen if occasionally he also sought out the racketeers in the ranks of Capital, of which there is an endless array.

As a case in point we offer the recent indictment of the fabulously wealthy Anaconda Wire and Cable Co., by a Federal Grand Jury. Anaconda has been indicted on eight counts charging conspiracy to defraud the United States by providing defective wire and cable for use by the Army Signal Corps. The indictment is the second returned against Anaconda involving the circumventing of tests and inspection requirements.

There will be no hysterical denunciations of Anaconda by Pegler. There will be no slinging of fingers at the countless lives endangered or sacrificed by greedy, profiteering, unpatriotic Anaconda officials.

There will be no charges of treason. There will be no implications of racketeering.

There will be no reference to corruption.

Or to political skulduggery. In fact, there'll be no mention of the matter at all!

EAT-YOUR-WORDS DEPARTMENT: ... January 17, 1942. Goebbels, at Danzig, before the political functionaries of the Nazi party: "We Germans have every reason to be satisfied with the way so far. For never in his history has Germany's national prospects been so favorable." ... January 18, 1942. Dr. Frederick, speaking in French, on the German radio: "America will lose the war. America is a giant with feet of clay. Its industries are incapable of fulfilling President Roosevelt's promises." ... January 19, 1942: German controlled Radio Paris: "So long as Anglo-Americans are not installed in Dakar, in Morocco, or in Algeria, they lack bases that are indispensable to them for any operations against the European continent."

STRAIGHT FROM THE SHOULDER: ... Should the war end next election, the next election would not be surprised if P. D. R. resigns and Wallace looms as the logical candidate for peace and post-war planning. ... Farm labor will probably be rationed and frozen. ... It is expected that within 18 months, every ten war workers will be women. ... A decisive "Battle of the Pacific" is expected to eventually develop in the vicinity of the Island of Truk. ... In spite of much talk by professional loud-mouths in Congress there will be no radical legislative changes. ... The loss of faith in their bonds by Japanese business men has resulted in the closing of that country's stock exchange. ... There is a remote possibility food rationing may not go into effect in February after all.

A NEW CAMPAIGN, which is causing the Germans as many morale headaches as the "V" campaign of a year ago is making itself felt throughout occupied Europe. The new device, which is being scribbled on walls, scraped on sidewalks, painted on fences, and otherwise displayed, consists of the figures "1918" which signifies the year when the Germans surrendered in the last war.

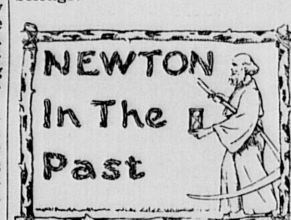

The "1918" campaign is spreading through Belgium and northern France to Norway, and at last reports, was making its appearance in the Netherlands. Underground movements are adopting the "1918" device as a means of plaguing the occupational authorities. In the Netherlands infuriated Germans are sentencing to two months' imprisonment anyone carrying poster glue, posters, painting material, chalk or other coloring material between the hours of 10 P. M. and 6 A. M.

VIA THE GRAPEVINE: ... GREECE: Open resistance to the Axis occupational authorities in Greece is now highly organized throughout the country waiting for the coming of the United Nations forces. The Nazi propaganda center in Athens was recently blown up and warehouses near Pyraeus, containing large stores of sugar, clothing and food products for German and Italian soldiers, were destroyed by mysterious fires. ... POLAND: Intensification of armed resistances against the German occupation in Poland is the reaction to the new wave of German terrorism sweeping the country. ... JUGOSLAVIA: Croat legionnaires with the German armies on the Russian front have had to return in order to fight the rebellious home front.

STUMPING FOR A THIRD PARTY is no new experience for Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana. The former American Firster once before turned on the Democratic Party, as vice-presidential nominee to campaign with Robert M. LaFollette. That was in 1924. The LaFollette-Wheeler Third Party went down to overwhelming defeat.

Political revolt on the part of malcontents such as Wheeler, Taft, Clark, Hoffman and Vandenberg is something which the rank and file of liberals could look to hopefully. Every scientific poll, gauging the political sentiment of the American people, assures their complete defeat at the polls. The only hope that the "Old Guard" of either party has, is to so confuse the issue by wardheel or filibuster as to prevent the majority from choosing its enlightened leaders as its standard bearers. It is a classic accepted fact, conceded by the knowing ones in both parties, that the party which loses the liberal independent vote loses the election. A third party, made up as it would be in the main of copperheads, crackpots, reactionaries, anti-laborites, bundists, administration haters, defeatists, and others of similar ilk, couldn't get itself elected into the political psychopathic wards where it belongs!

55 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, January 20, 1888
At the morning service of Eliot Church, Mr. Calkins stated that the new church building would seat about 1100 on the floor. Galleries are not contemplated, at present, at least. Some $51,000 of the amount pledged had been paid in thus far without solicitation.

The sleighing is fine and the moon is opportunely upon the increase.

A meeting of charter members for the formation of a Good Templar Lodge in Newton is called for this evening.

Whist has become the most popular winter recreation at present, and "How many whist clubs do you belong to?" seems to be the leading question of the season.

The ice on Crystal Lake is about a foot in thickness, and the ice men are reaping a splendid harvest—cutting is now in progress.

No new patients at the Cottage Hospital.

Newton Lower Falls is remarkably free from run-shops. It is a village of this size, with its heterogeneous population, that can boast of as temperate a population. Little rum is drunk and none sold, if we are to believe our eyes.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, January 20, 1893
The roll call of Eliot church last Friday evening, shows that over 600 members are on the church list.

The Newton Horticultural Society have made a request of the city government that ought to be complied with, which is that the city keep the trees on its streets free from tent caterpillars and other pests. As there are only a few varieties of trees thus affected, it would be a difficult task, especially if the work was done in time, and it would add greatly to the beauty of the city.

25 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, January 18, 1918
The opening of the new Waban Neighborhood Club house brought out representatives of nearly all the families in Waban. They are to be congratulated on the possession of such a handsome and convenient Neighborhood Clubhouse. There is a fine spirit of neighborliness in that little village which ought to be followed in other parts of the city.

The truly patriotic citizen at times like the present will not ask his coal dealer for more coal than he actually needs, and will endeavor to make his present supply last as long as possible.

Washington — Even more persuasive than Moscow's claims of victorious advances along the entire front is Berlin's concession that German forces at various points are on the defensive under hard enemy pressure. Berlin even admits that several divisions are completely encircled in and west of Stalingrad but hints that they would be supplied by air and be rescued "in the spring." What Berlin does not admit, however, is that a proud army of 220,000 men have been reduced to a starving and shivering remnant of 50,000 and that the swift process of annihilation has been accelerated by the Russians since the Nazi leaders of these lost divisions refused the generous terms of surrender offered them by the Reds on January 8.

The liquidation of this army will carry a threat to the whole southern Nazi front. The Russians moving down from Stalingrad are already much nearer to Rostov than the Germans retreating from the Caucasus. Other Russian columns striking the same goal may also reach there before the Nazi armies in the Caucasus. What will happen to these retreating Germans with this great mass of victorious Russian troops is released to surge down the valley of the Don—the Nazis' only avenue of retreat—may prove to be the biggest disaster suffered by the Germans in this war—and no little help to the American-British forces throughout the world.

We love John L. Lewis' statement that the "average weekly wage of an anthracite miner is not enough to buy Harry Hopkins an evening dinner at the Carlton Hotel." The Union head was referring to a party given at that city hotel for the new Mrs. Hopkins. According to rumors, the dinner cost $40 per guest for a total of $4000. The truth is that the per-plate was only $5 and that was paid for by Bernard Baruch, who gave the party as a wedding present for Mrs. Hopkins.

Incidentally, the Carlton is John L.'s favorite dining spot—and his meals are paid for by anthracite miners.

WALTER PIERCE PREDICTS: Watch for a brand new plan for increasing food production. It combines the profit motive with a patriotic urge to the farmer. The plan gives the farmer a bonus for raising larger crops than his quota calls for. ... Prentiss Brown is in for a few headaches: (1) From the Administration bloc trying to take rationing away from OPA and turn it over to Donald Nelson; (2) From Farm bloc attempting to break price ceilings; (3) From Agriculture Department heads who want meat rationed at retail level only. ... POLITICS WITH COLOR

By P. W. C.

State Parole Board

Many good citizens were startled to read in the papers the other day some rather caustic remarks made by Judge Frank J. Donahue concerning the Parole Board. Most of us assume that the board exercises sound judgment and acts from the highest possible motives. The chairman, Mr. Reuben L. Lurie, has a distinguished record of public service. Another member, Robert Ayers of Weston, is a former Secretary to Governor Saltonstall. Personally, I was dumbfounded to read the judge's comments to the effect that, "If you were as familiar with the actions of this parole board as I am, you wouldn't think so." The point at issue was the possibility that the Parole Board might, if given the opportunity, release a previously paroled sex offender a second time, unless the judge imposed a life sentence for the protection of the community. Lurie's defense appears to be that the parolee in question had not committed any of his sex crimes until after he had been paroled. The man had been classed as a moron, but not insane. I am inclined to believe that Judge Donahue made a proper decision. Obviously, the Boston Traveler thinks so. In an editorial, the Traveler states, (Judge Donahue) "deserves the thanks of the community for taking an undesirable individual out of circulation."

Lieut. Colonel Otis M. Whitney

I was delighted to receive a letter this morning from my old friend, Lieutenant Colonel Otis M. Whitney of Concord, former Representative in the State Legislature. As I believe I have previously stated in one of my weekly columns, either in Newton or Brookline, Col. Whitney has seen active service in the far Pacific area. When I opened his letter, however, it developed that he had not yet seen that particular column. He wrote as follows: "Dear P. W. C. Just a line to let you know I was good to read your column again, as I happened to get hold of a couple of copies of the Newton Graphic the other day. Next to a United Nations' victory, the best news I could get was that about the Governor's re-election, and Horace Cahill's, too. Best of luck to you and hope to see you before too long." As the Concord officer has many friends in Newton, I thought I would share this letter with my readers.

It was amusing to read the pompous resolution anent the atrocious Flynn appointment recently adopted by the Democratic National Committee. Among other things, the resolution refers to "this exposure of a dastardly, treasonable plot to hamper the commander-in-chief, by seeking to destroy their (the people's) confidence in the President." Further, this august committee charges that the attacks on Flynn are being carried on by enemies of President Roosevelt who "are directly attack the commander-in-chief of our forces in the midst of a war."

I have one or two observations to make about this situation. In the first place, what ground is there for the assumption that all the decent, self-respecting citizens of this great country of ours who are nauseated by this atrocious appointment must of necessity be enemies of the President? In the second place, if it be true that it is improper and disloyal to dare to protest against any of our commander-in-chief's acts in time of war, it is equally improper and disloyal to dare to protest against any of our commander-in-chief's acts, when performing Presidential acts, to exercise the most meticulous care and judgment, instead of following his normal peacetime procedure of giving out jobs to lame-ducks, staunch New Dealers and close political pals? If we, the people, who elected Mr. Roosevelt in the first place, are to be forced into silence simply because we are at war, does not some similar obligation rest on Mr. Roosevelt?

Here is another aspect of the situation. Australia is a vitally important cog in the United Nations' organization. Why did it not occur to our President to appoint as our Australian ambassador a man of integrity and not merely a man who chanced not to be indicted by a grand jury? Why did he not honor the Australian people by making a high-grade appointment? How about men like Herbert Hoover, Wendell L. Willkie, Bernard Baruch, Lewis Douglas, Joseph Kennedy and a score of similar men of unquestioned character and standing throughout the country? Let us hope that the U. S. Senate, in its wisdom, will view this situation seriously and refrain from playing the customary party game. The Flynn appointment should be thrown in the ashcan pronto.

Mayor Newman may be the youngest Mayor in the state, but he has intestinal fortitude. He was elected on an anti-Beano platform, among other things. Now the good people of Malden are faced with the departure of their young Mayor, who will enter the armed services. As a result, outside gamblers and chislers have decided that the time is ripe to come back to Malden, take over the local government and start Beano again. The smelly Dr. Saganasky, in his gang, has been accused of attempting to bribe some of the Malden aldermen and interfere with the election of the chairman of the board, who will take over when the Mayor leaves town. Let's watch our District Attorney, Bob Bradford, from now on. Firm action by this courageous official will avert a lot of damage and nasty scandal.

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, January 24, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The Golden Text is: "Teach me thy way, O Lord; I will walk in thy truth; unite my heart to fear thy name" (Psalms 86:11). Other Bible citations include: "And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself. And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight; and glorified God" (Luke 13:11-13). The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Truth casts out all evils and materialistic methods with the actual spiritual law—the law which gives sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, voice to the dumb, feet to the lame" (p. 183).

Mrs. E. F. Batcheler, 111 Court st., Newtonville, has received news from the War Dept. that her son, Staff Sgt. John F. Batcheler, is safe, but a prisoner of the Japanese in the Philippines.

It is 11½ months since he was last heard from. The news that he was alive, brought great joy to his family, and his many friends in the Newtons. He is a graduate of Newton High School, 1931. He was in the New England Aircraft School, Boston, and the Army Tech. at Chanticleer Field, Rantoul, Ill. His squadron left Hamilton Field, California, Oct. 1941, arriving at Nichols Field, Manila, 2 days before Pearl Harbor. Then war was declared and his squadron saw action both at Bataan and Corregidor.

NEWTON KIWANIS CLUB

Vice-President George Van Buskirk presided at the meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club last Tuesday in the absence of President James B. Riggs, who is confined to his home with the grippe.

The club met for the first time in its new quarters at the Newton Y. M. C. A. Guests included Mr. Ed. Desrocher of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, who was the guest of Mr. Walter Hood, and Mr. S. DeFargo, Jr., of Wellesley Hills.

Announcement was made that the first meeting of the new Directors will be held on the first Monday evening in February at the Log Cabin restaurant in Waltham. Dr. F. H. Paul was reported on the sick list.

Mr. H. J. Pettengill, who has just joined the local club, spoke briefly on the Newton United War Fund Drive. One hundred fifty-seven teams consisting of 2,200 soldiers will go into the field in Newton. Mr. Pettengill spoke of the good spirit and the fact that some teams had over-subscribed more than fifty per cent over last year. He said there was every indication that the Newton goal of $135,000 would be surpassed.

The speaker of the day was Dr. Emerson H. Lalone, manager of the Universalist Publishing House, whose subject was, "Post War Peace." Dr. Lalone said that if the United Nations were to win the peace at the end of this war, it must be won on the basis of fair play to the minorities and to all countries. He emphasized the need for an Over-all Council established as a worldwide organization with police power as required. He stated that if selfish interests were set down at the peace table that this war balance will be fought in vain and that our children would be fighting another world war.

Mr. Benjamin Louis, Chairman of the Program Committee, announced that the speaker at next week's meeting would be Mr. Irving Weidner, who is connected with Sharp & Dohme, Inc., well-known pharmaceutical manufacturers. His subject will be "How our Pint of Blood Goes To War."

War Fund Drive

In support of the community, the men in the armed forces—of whom there are more than 5,000 Newtonians—and the stricken peoples of the United Nations.

Following the invocation, delivered by the Rev. Dr. Boynton Moore of the Second Church, the assembled campaigners sang the national anthem, led by Miss Ruth Perkins. During the dinner the workers joined Miss Perkins in currently popular war songs and perennial vocal favorites. Louis V. Haffernell and his orchestra provided the music for the dinner program. The Highland Club Glee Club, Ernest Schleicher, Edgar Kandle, Paul Thayer and Ralph Somers—contributed several numbers.

The spiritual foundation of the 1943 campaign and its vital home front and war-service programs were fittingly illustrated in the pronouncing of the benediction and the presentation of a tableau. As Major Dan A. Laning, of the Chaplain School, Harvard University, prayed in the darkened gymnasium under a spotlight, the living picture of a mammoth poster was gradually illuminated at the side. The characters in the foreground represented Newton Chest agencies. War services and aid to the United Nations and combat prisoners were symbolized by members of Company C, 23rd Infantry, Massachusetts State Guard, in battle array.

The dinner program was in charge of the Events Committee, of which Mrs. William V. M. Fawcett is chairman. C. Hassler Capron arranged the tableau. Besides the speakers, those at the chairman's table included Charles M. Cutler, vice chairman, Advance Gists Division; Arthur O'Keefe, assistant campaign chairman; William B. Plumer, assistant campaign chairman; the Rev. H. H. Whillington, president, Newton Ministers' Association; Clark E. Woodward, chairman, Budget Committee, Newton Community Chest; Harry M. tel phases of a hospital, now they are beginning to appreciate that there is a distinct field of hospital administration of broader scope, that there are people trained in that field, and that they do not wish their hospital activities to be handicapped by administrators who lack good training and experience.

"Equally so, trustees are becoming more conscious of their trusteeship in this regard. The public is demanding of them that they do not let down the bars when they select hospital administrators, and they question whether the supply of administrators justifies any other procedure. True, the public continue to place upon the trustees the responsibility of making sure that the money entrusted to their care is carefully and economically used, but they are emphasizing achieve the greatest benefits to the community in its broad health needs than can result from this expenditure of money. Consequently, the pressure on the trustees results in the expensancy of broader and higher standards of achievement by the administrator."

Mr. Gerhard Hartman, Director of the Hospital, will report on "Newton Hospital Affairs and Needs." Mr. Frank L. Richardson, president, will close with a discussion on "Methods of Rendering Financial Support."

A war-time menu of non-rationed foods will be served family style.

School Committee Grants Army Request To Establish Auto Mechanic Course For Women

Fifty Enlisted Women From Various Parts of Country to Be Assigned Here; To Install Much New Equipment

The Newton Committee at their meeting Monday evening granted the request of the U. S. Army to establish an auto mechanics school for 50 enlisted women mechanics. The women to be assigned to the school will come from various parts of the country. The request was received by the school committee from the Army through the supervisor of industrial education of the State Department of Education. The entire cost of this course is to be borne by the Federal Government. The course is to start on Feb. 8, classes to be conducted from 3 to 11 p.m.

Supt. Julius E. Warren announced to the committee that the Federal Government has provided during the past week additional equipment valued at $30,000 for the Newton Trade School because of the transfer of Army machinist trainees from Wentworth Institute to the Newton Trade School. The city previously received from the government similar equipment valued at $45,000.

The board voted to change the boundary lines between the Warren and Day Junior High School, making the territory on Warwick road, Fairway drive, Randlett park and Elliot avenue to Waltham street an "optional district," providing that children residing there may attend either school until such time as those attending the Warren School have been graduated to college or university.

On motion of Committeeman Francis P. Frazier, the board voted to send a letter to the principal of the Day Junior High School commending the pupils for winning the right to fly the Minute Man flag attaining a high record for War Bond and Stamp purchases.

The committee also voted to grant a "certificate of achievement" to any Newton High School boy who is drafted or enlists during his junior or senior year and to any boy or girl who at the end of his or her junior year or during his or her senior year is admitted to a college or university.

In such cases, the board also voted, if a request is made in writing by the student or parent, the School Committee shall review the case for the purpose of determining whether a high school diploma shall also be granted.

Changes in the teaching staffs of the Newton public schools were approved by the School Committee due to resignations and military leaves of absence. A saving of about $1300 in salaries for the year will be effected by these changes.

Supt. Julius E. Warren told the committee that the substitutes chosen were competent teachers, but their salaries in most instances would be lower than those they replaced.

Mrs. Eleanor McDonough, a graduate of Salem Teachers College, was appointed a teacher at the Weeks Junior High School for the balance of the present school year. She has been employed for the past three years as a substitute teacher in Newton.

Over 60 Percent Subscribed To United War Fund

Newton had already raised more than 60 per cent of its $315,000 quota for the $7,800,000 Greater Boston United War Fund by Wednesday this week. A total of $191,432 raised in Newton to that time was announced at the second report luncheon held Wednesday at the Boston City Club.

The campaign total to date is $2,952,933, 37.9 of the goal and 6.1 gain since Monday. Newton leads, reporting 61%.

Neil Leonard, Newton chairman expressed himself as confident that the quota would be reached and exceeded before the final meeting of his campaign organization on Feb. 9. The sum reported at Wednesday's meeting, he emphasized, does not represent all that has been contributed to date. Subscriptions are coming in such a steady stream to village headquarters and the Newton Community Chest office, he declared, that the campaign auditors can not keep pace with reports of contribution.

The Newton Industrial Division is getting a response from labor and management never before shown in Newton campaigns, according to Vincent C. Stanley, chairman of the solicitation unit. (Continued on page 6)

New Audible Air Raid Signals Announced By Army Officials For States On Atlantic Seaboard

Issued Wednesday By Lt. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, Commanding General of Eastern Defense Command and the First Army

New uniform air raid protection regulations were announced Wednesday by Headquarters of the Eastern Defense Command and First Army for sixteen Atlantic Seaboard States and the District of Columbia, effective 12:01 A.M., February 17, 1943. The new regulations are the result of studies made by the War Department and the Office of Civilian Defense based upon the experience gained during the past year.

The new regulations provide for uniform air raid signals designed to permit earlier blackout and mobilization of civilian defense personnel, greater civilian protection, and a minimum of time loss and interference with essential war production and transportation.

The new regulations provide for uniform air raid signals designed to permit earlier blackout and mobilization of civilian defense personnel, greater civilian protection, and a minimum of time loss and interference with essential war production and transportation. Public Proclamation No. 4, issued Wednesday by Lieutenant General Hugh A. Drum, Commanding General of the Eastern Defense Command and First Army, in accordance with War Department instruction, established the authority for adopting uniform regulations in the Eastern Military Area consisting of the States of Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida east of the Apalachicola River, and the District of Columbia.

These regulations were issued by appropriate Service Command Headquarters at Boston, N. Y., Baltimore, Atlanta, and the Military District Headquarters in Washington, D. C. The principal features of the new regulations which were approved by the War Department and concurred in by the Office of Civilian Defense are: 1. A preliminary audible public "Blue" warning signal is prescribed, consisting of a steady blast lasting approximately two (2) minutes on air raid horns, sirens or whistles. This signal, which ordinarily will be the first public audible warning, means "Probability of enemy air raid—Enemy planes appear to be headed in your direction—get ready." Civilian Defense Forces Mobilize. Lights in homes, business houses, or industrial firms, and all but certain street lights and traffic signals will be blacked out. Pedestrians may proceed. Automobiles may move with lights on low beam. War production and transportation may continue provided certain precautionary steps have been taken.

2. An audible public "Red" air raid signal is prescribed consisting of a series of short blasts on air raid horns or whistles or the warbling notes of the siren. This signal, which corresponds in general to the present air raid alarm, means "Enemy planes are practically overhead." All remaining lights are blacked out except a few authorized emergency lights. Persons take shelter. Traffic except for emergency vehicles stops. The public is warned that in some cases the "Red" signal will be the first audible public signal whenever there has been insufficient time for sounding the preliminary "Blue" signal.

3. A "Blue" signal will always follow each "Red" signal after immediate danger has passed. It returns the community to the conditions prescribed for the "Blue" signal. The community is thus prepared to return to the "Red" without delay if the enemy raiders return.

4. No audible "All-Clear" signal is prescribed. The "All-Clear" will be indicated by turning on those street lights which have been off during the "Blue" by public radio announcements and telephone or other communication with warden posts and by local police. A community may adopt an audible "All-Clear" signal provided that it is not the same as the "Blue" or "Red" signals and does not resemble those signals so as to result in confusion.

A special feature of the new regulations prescribes that certain radio stations, on selected frequencies to be announced publicly, will remain on the air to broadcast official bulletins during the periods of the "Blue" and "Red" signals.

The new regulations prescribe special authorizations for essential war production and war transportation to insure a minimum of time loss and interference during the period of the "Blue" signals.

The new regulations reduce to a minimum the period of time of the "Red" signal by providing an additional "Blue" signal permitting an earlier return to the conditions under which essential war work and other activities may be resumed.

The regulations also specify that under no conditions will lights in actual use be left unattended at any time. Unattended lights in homes, business houses, or industrial locations are defined as potentially dangerous and therefore unlawful.

Brotherhood Week To Be Held Here

Plans Made To Observe Purposes Week of Feb. 19

The Executive Committee of the Protestant Ministers Conference of Newton has voted to recommend that Brotherhood Week be observed here in some way in all the churches of the city. Already many of the churches are planning some sort of appropriate recognition of the dates which are from Feb. 19 to 28.

Cardinal O'Connell, in a recent letter to Mr. Robert Ashworth of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, heartily endorsed the purposes of Brotherhood Week.

The Newton Kiwanis Club will observe the occasion at their weekly luncheon, and other organizations are making similar plans.

Following is President Roosevelt's proclamation on the purposes of Brotherhood Week: "The perpetuation of Democracy depends upon the practice of the brotherhood of man. The American conviction in war and in peace has been that man finds his freedom only when he shares it with others. People of every nation, every race, every creed are able to live together as Americans on this basis."

We are fighting for the right of men to live together as members of one family rather than as masters and slaves. We are fighting that the spirit of brotherhood which we prize in this country may be practiced here and by free men everywhere. It is our promise to extend such brotherhood. (Continued on page 6)

WPB Offers Quick Training Courses to Train Men for War Production Jobs

Spare Time Classes Prepare Trainees For Welders And Machinists—Three Night Courses Scheduled

Uncle Sam wants more welders and machinists. Several schools around Boston under the National Defense Training Program are doing splendid work preparing inexperienced but intelligent material into capable "soldiers" in the army of production.

The school most convenient to the Newtons is the Boston Trade School on Parker st., near the junction of Huntington ave., and Ruggles st. There, an expert corps of instructors under John H. Salzgeber give courses that in a short time teach as much as one might spend years acquiring by actual work in a shop. There are three schedules: one class is from 3:30 to 7:00 p.m., another from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m., and the third which strangely enough seems very popular, is from 11:30 p.m. to 7:30 a.m. There are no classes on Sunday. Each trainee's education costs the government approximately $400 and all tools and material are furnished free.

Men who are not likely to have an opportunity to serve soon with the armed forces can make a direct and important contribution to the war effort by joining one of these classes. So great is the need of machinists and welders that many are offered excellent positions with good pay before completing the four hundred hours that constitute a full course.

A Newton real estate salesman of our acquaintance who has done four weeks of the machinist evening course from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m. says he has been told that he can now be placed, but has asked to be permitted to complete the course as he finds the school work so fascinating that he wants to stay there the remaining three months and get the full benefit.

Age is no handicap. The oldest trainee so far at these Boston classes is a man only eighty-four years young. Fourteen 17-year-old high school students took the afternoon course recently and all were offered well paid work; 12 accepted.

If you are anxious to do something big to help win the war, perhaps your best bet would be to sign up for one of these remarkable courses. If you want more information, call Mr. Salzgeber at the school weekdays after 5:45 p.m.—Highlands 6200.

"Hell! It's Only a Cut"

"Sure a shrapnel wound hurts. But hell! It's only a cut—and we've got a job to do. Sew it up, Doc, and let me back at their throats."

There's guts for you. That's the spirit of men who "attack until exhaustion—and then attack again." Doesn't it make you proud? Doesn't it spur you on to do something really worth while?

Sure it does. But what can we do—we who are here at home?

Listen! Right now, there's a drive going on for the Greater Boston United War Fund. A drive for money—for our fighting men wherever they are—for food, clothing and medicine for the bombed civilians of our Allied Nations—for War Prisoners Aid—and most important, to make our community a better place for us all.

Here is your opportunity to do something really big. So dig down, Greater Boston. Dig down now. Dig as deep as a bullet wound. No matter how much you give, it's never too much to give.

"Hell! It's only a cut."

Give enough ...soon enough!

WE LIVE IN A GREAT CITY

We sometime wonder if we who live in Newton, the Garden City, realize that a mighty fine community it is our lot to reside in?

Has any community a better civic spirit than Newton? We doubt it! For proof of that just think a moment and visualize the thousands of our citizens who, month in and month out, are giving of their time, energy and effort to civic undertakings. Is any more proof needed than the splendid response which has been made here to the United War Fund effort, to the Salvation Army Drive, and which will be made to the forthcoming Newton Red Cross Drive?

But if that is not enough to convince, a careful perusal of the efforts being made in our public school system to give to our youth many, many more advantages than exist in any other community will prove it. Here is the real test of a unified, well-co-ordinated community, a community that is alive, alert and progressive. Perhaps, in the course of one's busy daily routine, these wonderful assets are overlooked. But let anyone, not a resident of Newton, study, yes even casually learn, about these advantages, and they will appreciate what the City of Newton has been, and is, offering its citizens, for these many years.

Add to this the fine civic government which we possess, the efficient police and fire departments and the splendid recreational facilities offered our children and they all add up to the undisputed fact that we of Newton, LIVE in a GREAT CITY, or more properly a GREAT community.

"The Matterhorn," said a schoolboy in his examination, "was a horn the ancients used to blow when there was something the matter." Now, with food shortage in the midst of bumper crops, there seems to be something the matter—perhaps a bottleneck—in the horn of plenty.

Life wouldn't be so full of hills if most of us were on the level.

This WEEK, This WORLD

by Ted Friend

THE UNITED STATES, and its allies, will owe France exactly nothing on the day of final victory. When the record of the appalling stupidity that made this war possible is written by French leaders, and the men of wealth who dominate French life, will stand out as Quislings long before the word was coined. They made an irresponsible child of France and at the peace table the United Nations will have to treat the French as nothing but irresponsible children.

Put these names down high among the list of French traitors; traitors not alone to France but to human decency as well: Petain, Darlan, Flandin, Peyrouton, Pucheu. And also, as enemies of democracy the world over, the money-mad men who run the Comite des Forges, which is the French Steel trust, the Bank of Indo-China, the de Wendels, and the Worms interests.

More than any other nation it was France which was responsible for the non-resistance to Fascism which paralyzed Europe, before, during and after Munich. Ironically it was the French popular government of Blum, which, through a cynical program of indulgence, permitted the strangling of the Spanish republic. And fittingly it was Petain who was appointed French Ambassador to Franco Spain after the death of the republic.

French political double-dealing is a new phenomenon. Ten days before Petain was authorized to sue for an armistice while France was collapsing under Hitler's sledge-hammer blows, the senile Marshal sent Marcel Peyrouton to Africa to make certain that the French governor of the African Empire would quit the fight instead of carrying on loyally with his allies. Peyrouton, a pronounced political trait of Fascist persuasion, and turn-coat in bargain, did his work well. The French went back on their pledged alliances and became as satellites of the Nazis.

In the fear that our own dear State Department has not yet been able to shake all the Fascist draft out of its hair, as represented by some of its career men, we are pleased to go into further detail concerning Peyrouton. Peyrouton is a French lawyer and politician who is an artist in fashioning evil into a thousand shapes. He started out as a Radical Socialist and wound up as a close associate of the reactionary Pierre-Etienne Flandin. Flandin, attorney for the big French Steel Trust, was the bright eyed boy who sent Hitler a telegram of congratulation at the time of Munich! Peyrouton, who is currently being white-washed by the State Department, was rewarded for his work in Africa by being made Minister of the Interior in the Vichy Government. His accomplishment, as a Hitler toady, was to set up and operate a French Gestapo which persecuted all de Gaulles, Himmlers, French and invoked the contemptible Nuremberg racial laws. Together with Pierre Pucheu, his predecessor as Minister of the Interior, and co-incidentally a long arm of the Vichy France, Peyrouton worked out the deal which transferred 51 per cent of the stock of all major French industries to the Nazis.

It was when Hitler was discovered to be up against a hopeless task in Russia, and the United Nations moved into North Africa, that Peyrouton, Petain, Flandin and the money-mad men hustled the French down to deal with the Allies. Far be it for dominant French leadership not to attempt to cash in on any possible wave of the future! General Henri Giraud had been sent to Africa to make certain there would be no French resistance. It is important to record that there was French resistance and it resulted in thousands of United Nations casualties. Darlan outsmarted the Giraud move by previously replacing every commissioned officer with his own pro-Vichy men.

The extent of biting the hand that came to save them, as relates to the bloody reception accorded to the liberating United Nations forces by the French military in Africa, is exemplified by the troops of wounded Americans now returning to the United States for convalescence. The present impasse in Tunisia, further, may be laid at the door of French non-cooperation and even treacherous opposition. Had the occupation of Africa proceeded on schedule, it would not have been necessary for the reported last minute of aiding the Americans by the British First Army which was to have gone on to Tripoli to cut off Rommel. Thus has French cunning and deceit as represented by its Petains, Flandins, Lavals and Peyroutons, served the uses and needs of Hitlerism.

But the story does not end yet! After Darlan's assassination Peyrouton was dusted off from his post as Ambassador to Argentina where, not too oddly, his embassy was a center of Fascist intrigue. In Buenos Aires Peyrouton declared, "Only a madman can believe that the British will win this war!" Peyrouton's new job, with the blessing of the U. S. State Department, is that of Governor of Algeria! This is vitally important because Algeria is not a mere French colony but a legally constituted part of France, made up of three departments which send regular deputies and senators to the French Parliament. In the present circumstances, Peyrouton not only succeeds Darlan, but, in effect also, Petain himself!

The confusion twice-confounded which put a pro-Nazi Vichyite by political preference and a Fascist by philosophical inclination on our side in Africa, could not have been accomplished without the aid and comfort of someone in our State Department bent on sabotaging the aims of this peoples' war.

How about it, Mr. Secretary Hull? Could it be that Paul Culbertson, one of the State Department's clumsy career practitioners, or Sam "All Thumbs" Reber, are gumming up the parade? It will not be forgotten that the eminent Mr. Culbertson was greatly responsible for our tragic embargo against Spain which neatly aided in the scuttling of the Spanish Republic; and that Mr. Reber was responsible for the Martiniere fiasco.

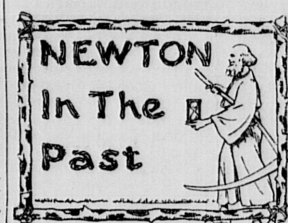

How about it, Mr. Hull?

Kiwanis Activities

President James Riggs returned to Kiwanis Club meeting last Tuesday after being confined to his home with the gripe. It was announced that the first meeting of the 1943 officers would be held next Monday evening. Guests included Mr. Samuel Johnson of the Newton Y. M. C. A. who was a guest of Bill Jasset and Ed Desrocher of Newton.

Dr. F. H. Paul and Dr. A. B. Norley were reported on the sick list. Walter Hood reported a little over $75.00 in bond purchases or a total of over $6,200 up to date.

The speaker was Mr. Irving Weidner of Sharp and Dohme Inc. His subject was "How Your Pint of Blood Goes to War." Mr. Weidner emphasized the need for more blood donations stating that in Boston quota had been increased from 3,000 pints per week to over 5,000 pints per week. He demonstrated the method of shipping now in use wherein the blood was dehydrated and shipped in sealed containers under a vacuum. In this condition it will keep for at least five years. He emphasized that the Red Cross needs a total of 3,000,000 pints and that possibly this would not be enough if we became more active on the fighting front. He states that up to the present time Russia was leading all nations in their organization to take care of the wounded on the battle field.

Fine Burnt Photographs are something entirely new and said to be absolutely imperishable.

The reports of the frozen and bursted water pipes came in from all directions on Sunday. One of the Newton plumbers had so many calls that he had to give out numbered tickets. Even the gas pipes on some streets have been frozen up, and a number of houses have been without gas most of the week.

The Newtonville post office will soon out-shine every post office in the city, as Postmaster Turner has ordered six electric lights to be put in by February.

Two of the new rooms at the High School building have no steam radiators, and the hot air registers are too small to make much impression on a cold day. The scholars complain a good deal of the cold, and some days have to wear their outside wraps during school hours.

Letters To The Editor

January 25, 1943.

Editor, Newton Graphic
Newton, Mass.

Dear Sir:

February first will mark the second birthday of the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety. Although the outline of the committee was formed before that time, the Executive Director, Mr. J. W. Farley, was appointed in January 1941. By the first of February, he had made his appointments and the working committee started to function.

At the end of this second year of work we feel that it is due, and appropriate on behalf of the Committee as a whole, Mr. Farley as Executive Director, and Mr. George C. Wiswell, Director of the Public Information Division, to extend to you and through you to your editors, reporters and others of your staff, our sincere appreciation of the wonderful cooperation extended to our Committee during the past two years.

That our present organization is rated the outstanding Civilian Defense Unit in the country is in no small measure due to the understanding and patient cooperation of your fine publication.

With deep appreciation from all of us here, I remain

Cordially yours,

J. G. GAVIN
Assistant Director, Public Information Division.

Dear Sir:

Notice in your paper under date of January 7, in the column titled "The New C. C. that we welcome is made to Leland Bickford, former radio commentator. One line in the article reads "you haven't heard so much about Leland Bickford since." Perhaps many people wonder why they haven't heard from Bickford and if so the reason is because immediately after his defeat by the small margin of twenty-one votes in Medford he enlisted in the Coast Guard and is now in uniform on duty somewhere in the Atlantic. Bickford is doing his duty in the armed forces at present, but it is my guess that when the war is over you will hear plenty about him for we, who know him, feel that he will be back in the political arena if he is fortunate enough to return from the war.

REP. HERTER IS NAMED TO CIVIL SERVICE COMMITTEE

Rep. Christian H. Herter of Boston, whose assignment to membership on the House Committee on Civil Service was announced this week, in commenting briefly on his appointment said:

"The House Civil Service Committee, in addition to its usual duties, has been given special resolutions sponsored by both Democrats and Republicans to make a thorough-going investigation of the Government civilian personnel practices, particularly with a view to ascertaining what agencies, if any, are already overburdened with too many employees. No other man can do more to seek to determine the effect of such policies and practices upon the conduct of the war, and whether these policies and practices are efficient and economic, and will also inquire into present methods of hiring, promotion, and pay for the Government service."

"Government civil employment is an important aspect of the whole man-power problem. Every man and woman in the Government of offices is one less available for work in the factory or on the farm, and each unnecessary one is excess baggage on the taxpayer's back."

"The opinion is wide-spread that in the immense and rapid expansions of all Federal agencies since Pearl Harbor, more persons have been hired for employment in the Government than are really needed or than can be effectively used."

"The inquiry which the Civil Service Committee is undertaking will aim to find out whether or not this opinion is justified, and if over-employment exists, will try to remedy it. It is a fact-finding proposition."

"I believe that membership on this Committee will afford an opportunity for constructive service."

Herter said he will begin with representative of either party on this Committee in the new Congress."

ANNUAL MEETING OF MASS. OSTEOPATHIC HOSPITAL

At the annual meeting, last week of the general staff of the Massachusetts Osteopathic Hospital, Jamaica Plain, Dr. Alexander F. McWilliams, 130 Forest ave., was re-elected director of the Out-Patient Department and Dr. Harry E. Cash, 170 Warren st., was elected as one of four assistant directors. New plans are being completed which, in connection with larger quarters now available, will greatly reduce waiting by those coming for treatment in the Out-Patient Department. In addition to the usual hospital clinics for the underprivileged there are special Hard-of-Hearing, Foot, and Tic Douloureux Clinics.

POLITICS WITH COLOR

By P. W. C.

President Roosevelt's Trip

President Roosevelt has turned out to be the supreme precedent-shatterer of all time. His sensational flight to North Africa was breath-taking. I marvel at the man's courage and spirit. On the other hand, I shudder to contemplate the possible result of such a daring venture. Can you imagine the chaos in this country and throughout the United Nations in the event that any accident had occurred? Suppose the President had been killed en route or even during the series of conferences while on dry land? Can't you imagine the torrent of criticism which would have flowed into Washington? Just consider the ghastly psychological effect on the people of this country, to say nothing of the people of the other United Nations. Would not the fact have been said that it was far too big a gamble to take, especially in view of the relatively meagre results, on the surface, at least?

Consider, for a moment, the purely political angle in the United States. If anything happens to our President, our constitution provides for the emergency by moving up our Vice-President to fill the vacancy. In this instance, we would suddenly find our country in the hands of Henry Agard Wallace of Iowa, the man who was hand-picked for the Vice-Presidency by Mr. Roosevelt, despite various protests from the President's own party. Mr. Wallace has, of course, many excellent traits and a certain measure of ability. There is grave doubt in the minds of thousands of people whether or not Mr. Wallace is of presidential stature. Furthermore, he is a man of extremely liberal views and is, apparently, abnormally visionary and idealistic. Many of us have felt for some time that the President was using Mr. Wallace as a sort of trial-balloon for the gauging of public sentiment in connection with all new governmental ideas. We have all noticed that Mr. Wallace has been particularly active in "sounding-off," as they say in the army, in regard to possible peace terms and post-war conditions in the United States and throughout the world. Of late, Mr. Wallace seems to have been kept under wraps. That could only mean that Mr. Wallace's various ideas and panaceas were not making a hit with a large section of our citizenry. As a matter of fact, it is hard to visualize anything more pathetic than a man of the Wallace type, sitting in a back-room sitting in a peace conference with a lot of hard-boiled gentlemen who are steeped in the fine art of political power playing. I doubt if he would do even as well as Woodrow Wilson did in 1918.

I am greatly relieved to have our President home again. President Roosevelt is the biggest man in the world today. His influence is constantly growing. We will need him and need him at his best when this global holocaust is over. No other man can do more to help civilization lift itself from the ground after this war is over. The spectre of starvation and financial ruin will stalk throughout Europe and throughout all countries laid waste by any of the Axis partners. The people of these suffering and desolate countries are even now looking to Mr. Roosevelt as their main hope. Let us do all we can to keep our President alive and in sound health until the day when peace shall reign once more.

Popularizing Our Referenda

It is a safe bet that most of my readers have long been disgusted with the present system of handling referenda on our election ballot. It would take the rain of a 40-hour week, outlast strikes and prohibit labor union contributions to political campaigns. But old line Republicans tell us that they're not going to use their first taste of power in more than a decade to alienate labor—one of the largest and most powerful groups of voters in the country. Moreover, G. O. P. leaders are too smart to misinterpret local victories in the last election as mandates to adopt an anti-labor front.

We said it last week and we repeat it. Economic Stabilizer Byrnes and Marvin Jones, his agricultural deputy, have an ace up their sleeves in the Incentive Farming plan. They hope it will offset Congressional clamor for revising parity formula to include rising labor costs. The plan calls for a cash bonus to farmers who top their quotas in certain scarce food crops. If sufficient pressure is applied by the farm bloc they may be willing to extend the payments to all food and feed crops. But should the growing farmer-labor feud reach Congress it may prevent either bloc from making any substantial legislative gains.

Linotypers, editors and proofreaders throughout this free country keep asking your correspondents why the offensive noun "quailing" should be capitalized and not "quail" or "murderer." In our humble opinion it shouldn't be.

A few days ago the Nazi-controlled Paris radio quoted a German statesman as saying "The German armies will be fighting the Bolsheviks in the steppes of Russia, in the forests and marshes of Poland, in the plains of Germany, on the fields of France and, if necessary, in the olive groves of Spain." A later broadcast further announced that "The Reich has burned all bridges, the German

Washington — Representatives of refugee governments fear that disease, slaughter and famine will spell the extinction of many European nationalities. Of more than 100,000,000 people who before the war dwelt between the Soviet frontiers and the Danzig-Trieste boundaries, more than 2,000,000 have been deliberately exterminated by the Nazis. Entire nations are being forcibly ousted from their traditional homes and shifted to make room for German settlers. Entire religions are being gradually stamped out, such as the Roman Catholicism of Austria, and where the Nazi gauleiter announced that his purpose is to "do away with all former religions and replace them with the new Nazi religion of blood and the sword."

WALTER PIERCE PREDICTS: More John L. Lewis trouble in the spring. Present soft coal wage contract expires March 31 and Lewis has promised wage boost to 80,000 anthracite miners, regardless of the National War Labor Board's wage-stabilization policy. Because American and British flyers have been wrecking his railroads, Hitler's off-predicted sensational move through Spain may never get started. Congress will probably get stumped. The authorized strength way above present 150,000. Army and industry will then compete for women as they have for men, giving McNutt more headaches. Don't be surprised to hear of feminine Vice-President booms soon. Republicans: Clare Boothe Luce—Democrats: Oveta Culp Hobby. Neither stands more chance of getting the nomination than the proverbial snowball—No truer words by any diplomat than James W. Gerard's (former Ambassador to Germany). "I heard an international banker say that we need after the war a happy and prosperous Germany. After the last war we kissed the good, kind Germans, gave them food and good American money, and they repaid us by a gangster war to control the world."

GRADUATES FROM U. S. NAVAL AIR NAVIGATION SCHOOL
Louis Fabian Bachrach, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fabian Bachrach of West Newton was a member of the precedent-setting class graduating from the U. S. Naval Air Navigation School operated by the Pan American Airways at the University of Miami on January 22nd. Composed of 69 naval officers and cadets, the class represented the first group of air navigators ever trained by the navy as specialists. Previous navy regulations have required that commissioned navigators also be pilots. Diplomats were presented by Rear Admiral James L. Kauffman, Seventh naval district commandant and commander of the Gulf-Sea frontier.

Mr. and Mrs. Bachrach went to Florida to attend the graduation exercises, and are spending a few weeks with Ensign and Mrs. Louis Fabian Bachrach, Jr.

To Liquidate WPA Work Here

The Works Progress Administration in Newton will be liquidated during the month of February. The manual workers of whom there are now about 25 will be dropped on Feb. 5, and the white collar workers, now about 30 in number, will end their services about Feb. 27, according to Harold F. Young, WPA sponsor's agent. There were formerly nearly 1000 WPA workers in Newton.

The manual forces have been working on two projects, manufacturing curbing and painting and repairing public buildings. The old factory building on Westwood st., West Newton, where the curbing construction project has been carried on for over 5 years, will be closed and any finished curbing which may remain on hand will be taken over by the Street Department, as the curbing is the property of the city.

Former Newton Woman Is Honored

Miss Nellie A. Buckley, veteran New Haven Railroad employee, was the guest of honor Jan. 25 at the Annual Meeting of the Worcester Traffic Association at the Hotel Bancroft. More than 200 attended the luncheon, which marked the first time that the association has so honored a woman railroad employee.

Serving as toastmaster, Traffic Manager Elmer B. Jones of the Norton Company presented Miss Buckley a purse on behalf of the association. President Howard S. Palmer of The New Haven Railroad, and Vice-President Frank J. Wall, in Charge of Traffic, paid special tribute to Miss Buckley in recognition of her nearly 50 years' service with the railroad. Joining railroad and association officials in congratulating Miss Buckley for her excellent record were General Traffic Agents James A. Beahan, in whose office Miss Buckley was employed when he served The New Haven as General Agent here, and District Traffic Agent G. J. Browne, in whose office Miss Buckley now is Chief Clerk.

Miss Buckley, who lives at 41 Main st., Millbury, is a native of Newton. Soon after graduating from Millbury High School, she entered the employ of The New Haven in June of 1893 as a spare operator, serving at various points between Worcester and Providence.

She came to Worcester in 1902 as a clerk in the Freight Agent's office. In December, 1917, she transferred to the Traffic Department, advancing to the position of Chief Clerk in the District Traffic Agent's office here. Miss Buckley has a wide acquaintance among traffic representatives of companies throughout Worcester county.

Rotary Club

The speaker at Rotary last Monday was Dr. Charles Liebman of the staff of the Newton Hospital, who spoke on "Roentgenology, the Science of X-Ray," which was a timely subject as it came during the week of our Community Fund Campaign. The Newton Hospital has recently secured four new machines, which are the equipment second to none in the country. The discovery of the x-ray was made by accident years ago when a German named Roentgen was experimenting with a Crookes' tube, electricity, and crystals.

The annual mid-winter reunion for Lasell Alumnae will be held at the Hotel Vendome on Feb. 6.

The Gamewell Company of which he is president for the first time had complete employee solicitation, with 100 per cent response in the plant, he declared has contributed to the campaign.

The Industrial Division's strong initial report was particularly appropriate since the meeting was designated Labor - Management Day.

Corporate gifts from industrial sources have also been generous. Mr. Stanley said, and more companies are responding daily. Contributions of $500 and over have already been received from the following industrial plants: New England Concrete Pipe Corporation, Gamewell Company, Raytheon Corporation, Futurity Three Company, Earnshaw Knitting Mills and Sherman Paper Products Company.

Further reports will be made at the report luncheons held at the Boston City Club tomorrow (Jan. 29) and Feb. 1, 3, 5, and 8. All the other divisions are showing the same enthusiasm to inspire Newtonians to "give enough soon enough" for the support of the city's and Greater Boston's all-time and war service programs. Mr. Leonard declared. "The campaign in Newton is gaining momentum every day," he said, pointing out that the second report was almost triple the first made last Monday.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

Elizabeth Knox of Washington, D. C., daughter of Katharine Jenckes Knox, Lasell 1904, has been elected president of the Sophomore Class. The following five new members were sworn into the Executive Council at the last meeting: Audrey Saunders of Great Neck, New York; Janice Root of New Haven, Connecticut; Marguerite Revere of Glen Ridge, New Jersey; Betsy McMullan of Chefoo, North China; Elizabeth Moore of Staunton, Virginia.

The New York Lasell Club will hold its fiftieth anniversary luncheon and meeting on Jan. 30 at the Building Trades Association in New York City. Miss Mary W. Clark, Registrar of the College, and Miss Esther Sosman, Alumnae Secretary, will be guest speakers.

The second semester begins on Feb. 1. Miss Gloria Clifford of Sailor's Snug Harbor, Staten Island, will be a new student at Lasell.

Dr. Elmer Leslie will be the Sunday vesper speaker.

BIOGRAPHICAL BOOK REVIEW SERIES

"How Long Will War Last?" will be the title of the book review series to be given by L. Wendell Hughes, minister of the Unitarian Church in Newton Centre. The series will be for a period of five weeks, and will be given at the Unitarian Parish House in Newton Centre under the auspices of the Unitarian Society. The reviews will be open and free to the public.

The first book review will be held on Sunday evening, Jan. 31, at 8 p. m., and Mr. Hughes has chosen the book entitled "The Crisis of Our Age," by P. Sorokin. The book is written by one of the greatest minds of the present day. Dr. Sorokin is chairman of the department of Sociology at Harvard University. He played an important role during the early days of the Russian Revolution. His life will be given and a truly one of the most fascinating stories that has come out of the Russian Revolutionary crisis.

APPOINTED REGIONAL ATTORNEY

Edward O. Proctor of Leeson lane, Newton Centre, has been appointed regional attorney of the New England office of the War Production Board according to an announcement made by Walter H. Wheeler, Jr., New England regional director. Mr. Proctor will succeed Charles M. Storey of Boston who has resigned to return to his private law practice.

Mr. Proctor was assistant attorney general of Massachusetts from 1937 to 1940 during which time he successfully tried the Col. Green tax case against the states of Texas, Florida, and New York. He has been serving as attorney for the State OPA office since last June, and will resign that office to take up his new duties. While engaged in private law practice he was a partner of former Attorney General Paul A. Dever.

JOSEPH J. STEFANIANK

Joseph J. Stefaniank of 85 Park st., Newton, died at his home on Tuesday, January 26. Mr. Stefaniank was in his 52nd year. He was a graduate of Holy Cross College and for several years has been employed as a railway mail clerk. He was a veteran of World War I serving as a sergeant in the 102nd Machine Gun Battalion and later was transferred to the 101st Field Artillery. He was wounded in the Battle of Chateau Thierry and awarded the Purple Heart for heroism.

I commend to all our citizens the observance of Brotherhood Week, Feb. 19-28, 1943. I like the slogan "Victory for Brotherhood." I trust that the call of the National Conference of Christians and Jews to affirm anew the religious principles of understanding, justice, friendliness and co-operation on which the realization of brotherhood rests will be heeded across the land by those of every occupation and religious allegiance. It is the application of these principles that makes our country united and strong.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY

Because of a decrease in the evening use of the Newton Highlands Branch Library, a change of schedule has been arranged, by which the Library will be open on Monday from 1-6 and 7-9 p. m., and on other week days from 10-12 a. m. and 4-6 p. m. It is thought that the new morning hours will be a convenience to many library patrons. This change of hours will be tried as an experiment for the period from Jan. 25 to April 1. Many public libraries are having to make changes in their hours of opening, to adjust to wartime conditions. At the Newtonville Branch Library, it has been necessary to close five evenings a week to save fuel oil.
